LADY NETTERS HIT THE ROAD

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State University Lady Eagle tennis team will travel to Greencastle, Ind., for a pair of matches this Saturday, against host Depauw and Ball State University.

The Lady Eagles have not suffered defeat since a 5-4 loss to the University of Louisville, in MSU's second match of the season.

The defending Ohio Valley Conference champions are no strangers to Ball State. During the spring season last year, MSU defeated BSU 8-1. It will be only the second match of the fall campaign for the Lady Cardinals, who welcome back three of their top six players from a year ago.

MSU entertained OVC rival Eastern Kentucky Thursday, in a tuneup for this weekend's action.

Coach Bev Mayhew's squad took a seven-game winning streak, and 8-1 record into the ECU confrontation. The Lady Eagles are coming off a weekend, which saw the MSU win three outings at home.

Morehead State defeated Charleston 9-0, East Tennessee 8-1, and Cincinnati 7-2.

EAGLE HARRIERS LOOK TO RIO GRANDE MEET

MOREHEAD, Ky.---It will be a homecoming of sorts for Morehead State cross country coach Bob Willey when he takes his squad to compete at Rio Grande College this weekend.

Willey is a former track and cross country coach at Rio Grande, and believes his Eagle unit will face some major challenges this Saturday.

"We are going to run into a number of good teams this weekend," Willey said. "Unless we start running better, we could fall in the meet standings."

The Eagles are coming off a third-place finish in the West Virginia State Invitational last weekend.

"We had some kids run very well and have shown us improvement from meet to meet," said Willey.

Todd Rees, a senior from Gallipolis, Ohio, finished as the top Morehead State runner with a fifth place standing in the meet results.

"Aside from the Glenville State meet, Todd has run exceptionally well," Willey said. At Glenville, the Eagles first outing of the season, Rees placed 31st overall.

Willey added that he expects the major competition this week to come from host Rio Grande, which won the West Virginia meet, and the "B" squad from Marshall University.

The Eagles will take a week off following this Saturday's outing. They will next see action at the Berea Invitational on Oct. 15, a meet which the Eagles won last year.

VOLLEYBALL LOOKS TO CINCINNATI, EASTERN

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Following a week that saw the Lady Eagle volleyball team add six wins to its season record, coach Jim McClellan and his team must prepare for a pair of tough matches.

Morehead State will host the University of Cincinnati on Tuesday, Oct. 4, then welcome Ohio Valley Conference nemesis Eastern Kentucky to Wetherby Gymnasium on Oct. 5.

"Cincinnati has got two great players on their team, and they are well coached," said McClelland. "They will be a good team to play. But since we're playing Eastern the next night, I'm worried that the girls may be looking ahead. I've been telling them that we can't give Cincinnati away. Let's get them first, then we'll worry about Eastern."

Highlighting a busy week for the Lady Eagles was a third-place finish at the University of South Carolina Tournament. The first victim for the Lady Eagles was North Carolina State, who fell in five games. Georgia Tech was the next hurdle to be cleared, and MSU took only three games to dispatch them. OVC foe Tennessee Tech was subdued in four tough games, advancing MSU to the semifinal round, where host South Carolina downed the Lady Eagles in three games.

"In the first match, we played the best we've played all season," said McClellan. "North Carolina State went to the AIAW tournament a couple of years ago, so they have a good team. Some of our kids really played well, especially Tracy Slater, Wendy Rumford, and Carol Wauligman.

"I didn't expect to do that well," said McClellan of his team's finish. "I'm pleased with the outcome. We're starting to improve some. We don't have a lot of physical talent, so we play a lot on desire."

vs. Morehead State Eagles (0-4, 0-2)

Game 5

THERE'S A FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING: And for one of these two teams, the first will be an Ohio Valley Conference win this season. Thus far, the guest Gobs have lost their only OVC contest to date, a 31-14 decision at Eastern Kentucky last weekend. The Eagles have dropped both OVC games they have played, a 56-17 home loss to Middle Tennessee, and a 38-0 blanking at Murray State last week.

THE RIVALRY: The first time the two teams met was 1962. APSU holds a slim 11-10-0 advantage. The Eagles have outscored the Gobs 385-336 in the series. Scores from past games are:

LAST MEETING: Oct. 9, 1982, at Clarksville, Tenn.---Keeping with the tradition of close contests that has been characteristic of the MSU-APSU rivalry, this one went to the wire. MSU drew first blood with a 39-yard Lenn Duff field goal in the second quarter. The Gobs replied with an 80-yard touchdown jaunt by Fred Motes, which was countered by a Jeff Richards TD for MSU. The Gobs tied the score in the third quarter on a 16-yard run by QB Mike Katzman, then took the lead with a 25-yard Ray Hampton field goal. With 1:38 in the game, David Thurkill tood a 7-yard pass from Don Reeves to pull the Eagles to within one. In a try for the win, the Eagles fell short on the two-point conversion, resulting in the final 17-16 score.

THIS YEAR: Morehead State is 0-4 (L at Kentucky State, 7-3; L Marshall, 35-0; L Middle Tennessee, 56-17; L at Murray State, 38-0).
Austin Peay is 3-1 (W at UT-Martin, 45-6; W Kentucky State, 20-14; W Western Kentucky, 13-3; L at Eastern Kentucky, 31-14).

COACHES: Steve Loney is 6-18-0 in his third year at Morehead State.
Emory Hale is 11-13 in his third year at Austin Peay.

OUT OF THE BLOCKS: The Eagles' 0-4 start is the worst since 1981, when the Eagles finished with a 1-9 record, their only win coming in a home contest against Liberty Baptist. Prior to that, you'd have to go all the way back to 1955 in match the Eagles' start. The Gobs haven't had such a start since 1965, when they went 5-0, thanks to a forfeit by Eastern Kentucky to start their season.

LEDFOORD NAMED CAPTAIN: In a team vote held earlier this week, senior wide receiver Mark Ledford was named captain for the 1983 Eagle football team. The 6-1, 175-pound native of Mt. Sterling, Ky., has a total of 95 catches during his MSU career, covering 1,175 yards and resulting in four touchdowns. For the past two years, Ledford has been in the top five receivers in the OVC, last year earning all-conference and honorable mention All-American honors.

LIGHT IT UP DAY: The Jayne Stadium scoreboard nearly blew a fuse or two the last time these two teams met in at MSU. The Govs took a 21-0 lead into the final quarter, when both teams broke loose on a 49-point scoring binge, ending in the 42-28 final with APSU the victor. The Eagles came as close as 28-21 during the scoring orgy, but watched as the Govs tallied two more TDs to their one. APSU ended the day with 416 yards rushing and 129 yards passing for 545 net yards, while the Eagles had 86 yards rushing and 364 passing for 450 yards, a total of 995 yards covered by both teams, with 393 coming in the final stanza.

OFFICIALS FOR TODAY'S GAME: Referee--Tom Weber; Umpire--Jim Miller; Linesman--Bill Smith; Line Judge: Warren Wiltshire; Field Judge--Frank Jump; Back Judge--Charles Hall.

BUSY NEXT WEEKEND: There will be plenty to do next weekend as the Eagles celebrate Homecoming 1983. The Eagle football team will host OVC foe Akron, while the volleyball team will host the OVC Mid-Season Tournament, which will be held Oct. 14 and 15 at the Academic-Athletic Center and Wetherby Gymnasium. Among the Homecoming Week activities is a concert by the pop group Quarterflash in the AAC on Thursday, Oct. 13.

MEDIA, MARK THIS DOWN: The annual MSU Basketball Media Day will be held in the AAC on Wed., Oct. 19, beginning at noon. You should be receiving your special invitation in the mail shortly.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 9, 1982, at Clarksville, Tenn.---Keeping with the tradition of close contests that has been characteristic of the MSU-APSU rivalry, this one went to the wire. MSU drew first blood with a 39-yard Lenn Duff field goal in the second quarter. The Govs replied in the same stanza with 80-yard touchdown jaunt by Fred Motes which was countered by an Eagle touchdown by Jeff Richards. The Govs tied the score in the third quarter on a 16-yard run by QB Mike Katzman, then took the lead with a 25-yard Ray Hampton field goal. With 1:38 in the game, David Thurkill took a 7-yard pass from Don Reeves to pull the Eagles to within one. In a try for the win, the Eagles fell short on the two-point conversion.

Austin Peay is 3-1 (W at UT-Martin, 45-6; W Kentucky State, 20-14; W Western Kentucky, 13-3; L at Eastern Kentucky, 31-14)

COACHES: Steve Loney is 6-18-0 in his third year at Morehead State.
Emory Hale is 11-13 in his third year at Austin Peay.

THIS YEAR: Morehead State is 0-5 (L at Kentucky State, 7-3; L Marshall, 35-0; L Middle Tennessee, 56-17; L at Murray State, 38-0; L Austin Peay, 14-3).

Akron is 3-3 (W Kent State, 13-6; W at Eastern Michigan, 13-0; W Western Kentucky, 14-13; L at Eastern Kentucky, 10-5; L Middle Tennessee, 26-3; L Eastern Illinois, 10-7).

COACHES: Steve Loney is 6-20 in his third year at Morehead State.
Jim Dennison is 63-51-2 in his eleventh year at Akron.

THE WAY WE WERE: Homecoming lends itself to nostalgia, and here's an interesting bit: the last time the Eagles scored 23 points or less in five consecutive contests was in 1958, when the Eagles closed out their season with 21 points spread out over five games. The Eagles ended that year 0-8-1. The last time the Eagles were shut out twice in one season was 1976, and should the highly touted Akron defense hold the Eagles scoreless today, it will be the first time since 1955 that the Eagles had three shutouts in one season.

NATIONAL LEADERS: James Black, tailback for Akron, currently is ranked eighth in the nation in rushing, while the Akron defense is touted highly, placing seventh in scoring defense, eleventh in pass defense, and sixteenth in total defense. The Eagles have placed Mark Ledford in the twentieth position in receiving after his performance last Saturday in which he snared ten passes for 84 yards.

ONCE AGAIN, THIS REMINDER: To all local media, the 1983 MSU Basketball Media Day will be held this Wednesday beginning at noon in the Len Miller Room of the Academic-Athletic Center. The event will feature a luncheon followed by comments by coach Wayne Martin. A question-answer period will follow, with open access to the players and coaching staff afterward. If you have not returned your RSVP to Craig Bohnert, please do so before you leave today.

VOLLEYBALL FIGHTS BUG, AIMS FOR TOURNEY

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Coach Jim McClellan and his Lady Eagle volleyball team face several formidable opponents this week as they prepare to host the Ohio Valley Conference Mid-Season Tournament on Oct. 14 and 15 on the Morehead State University campus.

Foremost among this week's foes is a virus strain that has decimated the Eagle starting lineup and limited the travel squad for bouts with Indiana State-Evansville and the University of Evansville this evening. The Lady Eagles will take on ISUE and UE's Lady Aces in two matches at UE's Carson Center before playing host to tough Loyola Marymount on Wednesday evening.

The virus has hit the Lady Eagles hard, affecting every player in one form or another and prompting losses to Louisville and Hofstra over the weekend.

"We just didn't play well against either team," said McClellan. "We only have eight players. All the kids are sick with the virus, so we've had to play some girls who haven't played a lot. We're going to have to get healthy before we can get back on track."

The Eagles have slipped to 13-12 due to a five-game losing streak which they hope to snap in Evansville. The last Eagle win was over OVC foe Tennessee Tech in the quarterfinals of the South Carolina Tourney. Since then, they have fallen victim to South Carolina, Cincinnati, Eastern Kentucky, Louisville, and Hofstra.

Following the OVC Tournament, the Eagles will have time to recover before hosting national power Penn State on Oct. 20.

BASEBALL EAGLES WRAP FALL SEASON

MOREHEAD, Ky.---For the Morehead State University baseball Eagles to repeat as Ohio Valley Conference champions this spring, pitching will be the most important facet of coach Steve Hamilton's team.

"We have the best pitching depth in the league," said Hamilton as he and his diamondmen closed their fall season with a 6-4 record. "Our pitchers will determine how far we will go."

Junior left-hander Drew Hall led the Eagles last spring with a perfect 6-0 record and a 4.47 ERA. He set the school strike-out record for a seven-inning game when he fanned 17. This fall, Hall continued his performance by striking out seven men in only two innings' work, a feat achieved thanks to a dropped third strike by the Eagle catcher, allowing the batter to steal first base.

Due to graduation and professional baseball's college draft, Hamilton faces the task of replacing his entire infield. Only one veteran, junior third baseman John Miller, saw action last spring as designated hitter and logged little playing time in the field.

The outfield should be strong with the return of upperclassmen Norm Brock and Shawn Johnson. Brock led the team last season in stolen bases and plays right field. Johnson, who will make the move from left to center, hits for power with 13 of his 33 hits last season going for extra bases.

The catchers' position should be solid in the spring. Daniel Smith, a pleasant surprise for MSU coaches last year, earned All-OVC honors in his initial year as an Eagle. He tied the school record of three doubles in one game last spring. Tom Rastani served as a backup to Smith and saw limited action in the spring, but played well in the fall season.

"The outfield and catcher's positions are very strong this year," said Hamilton. "We're going to concentrate hard on the infield due to the lack of playing time of the infielders."

The Eagles finished the fall season at 6-4. The young infield was the basis of the problems the Eagles suffered in their losses, but work over the winter should help the basemen improve by spring. That improvement will be important to the Eagles' hopes of repeating their OVC title and the trip to the NCAA post-season playoffs.

HERE WE GO AGAIN: For the second time in as many weeks, the Eagles will do battle with an Ohio Valley Conference as both seek their first league win of the season. The Eagles have lost their first three OVC tussles, 56-17 to Middle Tennessee, 38-0 at Murray State, and 14-3 in a thriller against Austin Peay last week. The Zips have recorded OVC losses against Eastern Kentucky (10-5) and Middle Tennessee (26-3).

THE RIVALRY: The first time the two teams met was 1975. Akron holds a 4-1-1 advantage in the series, and also leads in total scoring, 121-63. Scores from past games are:

LAST MEETING: Oct. 16, 1982, at Akron, Ohio--On a cold, blustery day in the Rubber Bowl, the Eagles dropped their season record to 3-3 with a 28-6 loss to the Zips. Akron opened the scoring with a Dennis Heckman field goal early in the second quarter. From then on, it was all the Zips, as three touchdowns were spaced by a safety when the Eagles centered a ball out of the end zone from a shotgun formation on their own 22-yard line and another Heckman field goal. The Eagles got on the scoreboard with 4:33 left in the game when Mike Hanlin hit Mark Ledford with the 16-yard pass. The try for the two-point conversion came up short, however, resulting in the final 28-6 score.

BOOM, BOOM, BOOM, DOWN GO THE RECORDS: Adrian Breen, freshman quarterback, set three MSU records, one OVC record, and two NCAA records against Austin Peay last week. His 54 pass attempts and 31 completions broke records over 30 years old, while his 79 offensive plays were school and OVC records. The old conference record was 69 set by Johnny Vance of Western Kentucky against Akron in 1969. The two NCAA records set by Breen were of questionable boastability, however. He logged the worst rushing performance in I-AA (-98 yards), and his 13 times sacked also shattered the old record, set by Neil Lomax of Portland State on Oct. 14, 1978, when the Humboldt State defense got to him 10 times.

TODAY'S OFFICIALS: Referee--Glenn Hassell; Umpire--Bill Rapp; Linesman--James Wilson; Line Judge--Tony Chrowl; Field Judge--Herman Brown; Back Judge--Charles Hall.

EAGLES TRAVEL TO WINLESS TECH

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State football Eagles will put several streaks on the line when they travel to Cookeville, Tenn., to do battle with Tennessee Tech this Saturday afternoon in an Ohio Valley Conference meeting.

Tech also is putting several strings of its own up for grabs. The Golden Eagles have lost twelve consecutive games reaching back to last year. Coach Gary Darnell has kept his team close in four of the five contests played this year, with three games ending with the Eagles behind by only two touchdowns or less.

The Eagles, on the other hand, have a number of strings they'd like to break. They are: consecutive losses (9), losses on the road (14), quarters played without a touchdown (12), and quarters played without a rushing touchdown (33).

The last Eagle victory was against Western Kentucky, a 17-13 decision last year. The last Eagle road win was in 1980, when MSU took a 20-14 win home from Youngstown State. The last time the Eagles scored a touchdown was the fourth quarter of the Middle Tennessee game earlier this year, while the last rushing touchdown came against Liberty Baptist last year, when Roger Cleveland scored from 17 yards out.

This Saturday's contest is expected to be a defensive battle, as Tech has been able to hold all but two opponents below 21 points. The MSU defense has been making progress throughout the season, but lost some ground in the 31-0 loss to Akron last Saturday.

"Defensively, we digressed a bit from the progress we had shown against Austin Peay," said MSU coach Steve Loney. "Our missed tackle total went ck up to where it was against Middle Tennessee. Once we decided to play, we did well, but we've got to prepare for the game during the week and not wait until Saturday to get ready."

Loney sees parallels between his team and Tennessee Tech.

"Like us, they're a team that's struggling," he said. "It seems that they have found ways to lose games, but they have played people tough each game.

"Our players have got to find a way to win a game rather than lose one," continued Loney. "Defensively, we've got to keep the press on the opponent."

Tech has not fared well against pressure, as evidenced by the first half of last week's game at Western Kentucky. In nine possessions in the first half, the Golden Eagles were intercepted four times, fumbled once, iled on a fake field goal attempt, and punted three times.

"Gary Darnell is a fine head coach who I've known since my coaching days in Kansas," said Loney. "I have a lot of respect for him, and I know he will bring his team into this game well-prepared and ready to have some fun on the football field."

VOLLEYBALL TO HOST PENN STATE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State Lady Eagle volleyball team returns home to compete against 18th-ranked Penn State after finishing tied for third in the first Ohio Valley Conference Mid-Season Tournament last weekend.

The Lady Eagles defeated conference foes Austin Peay, Youngstown State, Middle Tennessee, and Murray State (all in two games), but fell to Eastern Kentucky, a surprising Akron squad, and eventual champion Tennessee Tech. Two MSU players, senior Tracy Slater and junior Mary Bradley, were selected to the All-Tournament team.

Coach Jim McClellan and his charges took advantage of a four-day rest to prepare for Penn State. Head coach Russ Rose will bring his Nittany Lions to Wetherby Gymnasium with a 21-6 record and a six-match win streak. The Lions are coming off three-game defeats of George Mason, New Hampshire, and Hofstra.

The Lady Eagles enter the contest with a 18-17 record. McClellan will have a complete squad after two weeks of battling a stomach virus which added to a string in which the Lady Eagles won only one of eight matches.

"We're healthier now than we have been the last few times out," said McClellan. "We'll have to see what happens. Penn State has a good team, and I'm sure my kids will give their all."

The Lady Eagles will host Penn State Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Wetherby Gym before returning to the road for the University of Tennessee Tournament this weekend.

EAGLE HARRIERS GEAR FOR ASBURY MEET

MOREHEAD, Ky.---With a fourth place finish in last weekend's Berea Invitational tucked away, coach Bob Willey and his Morehead State men's cross country squad will head to the Asbury College Invitational this Saturday morning in Wilmore, Ky.

"I'm really pleased with the way we've been making progress from meet to meet," said Willey. "We started out the season slow, but for the past two weeks we have been coming on strong and that's what we need heading into the conference meet."

The Eagles captured top honors in the Rio Grande Invitational on Oct. 8.

"I'm hoping that we can use the past two meets and this week's meet at Asbury to get us prepared for the Ohio Valley Conference meet," Willey said.

The OVC cross country championships will be held at the University of Akron on Oct. 29.

The leaders throughout the season came through once again for the Eagles at Berea. Senior Todd Rees placed eight overall in the five mile race. Fellow senior Joe Martin finished in 14th place, while freshman Kenny Williams was the 16th runner to cross the finish line.

"As those three guys run, so does our team," Willey added.

Rees took 53 seconds off his time from last year's meet on the same Berea course. The Eagles finished behind champion and OVC rival Eastern Kentucky, Northern Kentucky and Lincoln Memorial.

"We faced some tough squads at Berea and the same will hold true this week," Willey said.

EAGLE HARRIERS GEAR FOR ASBURY MEET

MOREHEAD, Ky.--With a fourth place finish in last weekend's Berea Invitational tucked away, coach Bob Willey and his Morehead State men's cross country squad will head to the Asbury College Invitational this Saturday morning in Wilmore, Ky.

"I'm really pleased with the way we've been making progress from meet to meet," said Willey. "We started out the season slow, but for the past two weeks we have been coming on strong and that's what we need heading into the conference meet."

The Eagles captured top honors in the Rio Grande Invitational on Oct. 8.

"I'm hoping that we can use the past two meets and this week's meet at Asbury to get us prepared for the Ohio Valley Conference meet," Willey said.

The OVC cross country championships will be held at the University of Akron on Oct. 29.

The leaders throughout the season came through once again for the Eagles at Berea. Senior Todd Rees placed eight overall in the five mile race. Fellow senior Joe Martin finished in 14th place, while freshman Kenny Williams was the 16th runner to cross the finish line.

"As those three guys run, so does our team," Willey added.

Rees took 53 seconds off his time from last year's meet on the same Berea course. The Eagles finished behind champion and OVC rival Eastern Kentucky, Northern Kentucky and Lincoln Memorial.

"We faced some tough squads at Berea and the same will hold true this week," Willey said.

EAGLES AIM AT WESTERN

MOREHEAD, Ky.---"Our effort was good enough to win," said Morehead State football coach Steve Loney. "Our defense played well enough to win, and we stopped Tennessee Tech in key situations."

Although the effort was there, someone had to come out a winner in a game which brought together two winless teams. The final result on a cold and rainy Saturday was Tennessee Tech recording a 14-3 homecoming victory and the Eagles still looking for their first win of the season.

While MSU improved its offensive performance, it was able to score only three points on a 27-yard field goal by Lenn Duff in the third quarter. Loney was pleased with the increasing balance in his offensive unit.

"I believe we showed vast improvements in balancing our offensive attack," said Loney, who now turns to the task of preparing his team for a Western Kentucky unit that is fresh from a 10-10 tie with the nation's No. 1 Division I-AA team, Eastern Kentucky.

"They'll be higher than a kite after their come-from-behind tie of Eastern," said Loney. "Offensively, they've had their trouble, but defensively they have played well all season. We'll know a little bit about what to expect from them since their defensive coordinator, Mike Cassady, was here last year."

The Hilltoppers got off to the worst start in the 65-year history of football at Western by going 0-5 prior to a win over Tennessee Tech a week before the Eastern matchup.

"The trend is that they are building," assessed Loney. "They are going to push to win their next four games and finish their season at .500."

Offensively, the Hilltoppers face problems similar to those suffered by the Eagles...namely youth. The inexperience for WKU is in the skill positions, rather than on the offensive line, where four of five starters for MSU are freshmen. The 'Toppers boast a veteran fullback and line, but play freshmen and sophomores at the remaining ball-handling positions, leading to youthful mistakes, such as 12 interceptions thus far on the season.

Defensively, Western welcomes back All-American Paul Gray at linebacker, where he has recorded 95 tackles, 15 of his stops coming against Eastern. He also intercepted an ECU pass with less than 30 seconds remaining in the game to stifle an Eastern chance at the win and give Western a shot at a 51-yard field goal with no time left in an effort for the victory.

Loney expects a rough time for his Eagle offense this weekend. Sophomore halfback Roger Cleveland had the best rushing effort by any Eagle this season with 70 yards against Tech, but he suffered a hip pointer midway through the third quarter and is questionable for Saturday.

The Eagles must find a way to break a 16-quarter string without a touchdown, dating back to the Sept. 24 game against Middle Tennessee when MSU scored its only two touchdowns of the season in the fourth quarter.

"Until we learn how to put it in the end zone, it's going to be rough," said Loney.

Leading the defensive charge for the Eagles is sophomore linebacker Randy Frazier, tallied 22 tackles against Tech to earn defensive Player of the Week honors from the MSU coaching staff. The native of Whitesburg leads the team in tackles with 79, 51 of which were solo stops.

The game will be Western's homecoming and will begin at 1:00 p.m. central time.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 30, 1982, at Morehead, Ky.---That rainy afternoon still lives in the memories of Eagle fans, since it is the last time the Eagles were on the high side of the scoreboard. It took WKU only 15 seconds to get on the board, because that's how long it took Davlin Mullen to weave through the MSU defenders with the kickoff to score a 95-yard TD. The Eagles replied with a 29-yard field goal by Lenn Duff and two rushing TDs, one by Roger Cleveland and the other by Mike Hanlin. WKU responded with two field goals and had pushed downfield to try for the winning score, but an Eagle interception ended the comeback hopes of the Toppers and gave MSU a 17-13 victory.

EAGLES AIM AT WESTERN

MOREHEAD, Ky.---"Our effort was good enough to win," said Morehead State football coach Steve Loney. "Our defense played well enough to win, and we stopped Tennessee Tech in key situations."

Although the effort was there, someone had to come out a winner in a game which brought together two winless teams. The final result on a cold and rainy Saturday was Tennessee Tech recording a 14-3 homecoming victory and the Eagles still looking for their first win of the season.

While MSU improved its offensive performance, it was able to score only three points on a 27-yard field goal by Lenn Duff in the third quarter. Loney was pleased with the increasing balance in his offensive unit.

"I believe we showed vast improvements in balancing our offensive attack," said Loney, who now turns to the task of preparing his team for a Western Kentucky unit that is fresh from a 10-10 tie with the nation's No. 1 Division I-AA team, Eastern Kentucky.

"They'll be higher than a kite after their come-from-behind tie of Eastern," said Loney. "Offensively, they've had their trouble, but defensively they have played well all season. We'll know a little bit about what to expect from them since their defensive coordinator, Mike Cassady, was here last year."

The Hilltoppers got off to the worst start in the 65-year history of football at Western by going 0-5 prior to a win over Tennessee Tech a week before the Eastern matchup.

"The trend is that they are building," assessed Loney. "They are going to push to win their next four games and finish their season at .500."

Offensively, the Hilltoppers face problems similar to those suffered by the Eagles...namely youth. The inexperience for WKU is in the skill positions, rather than on the offensive line, where four of five starters for MSU are freshmen. The 'Toppers boast a veteran fullback and line, but play freshmen and sophomores at the remaining ball-handling positions, leading to youthful mistakes, such as 12 interceptions thus far on the season.

Defensively, Western welcomes back All-American Paul Gray at linebacker, where he has recorded 95 tackles, 15 of his stops coming against Eastern. He also intercepted an ECU pass with less than 30 seconds remaining in the game to stifle an Eastern chance at the win and give Western a shot at a 51-yard field goal with no time left in an effort for the victory.

Loney expects a rough time for his Eagle offense this weekend. Sophomore halfback Roger Cleveland had the best rushing effort by any Eagle this season with 70 yards against Tech, but he suffered a hip pointer midway through the third quarter and is questionable for Saturday.

The Eagles must find a way to break a 16-quarter string without a touchdown, dating back to the Sept. 24 game against Middle Tennessee when MSU scored its only two touchdowns of the season in the fourth quarter.

"Until we learn how to put it in the end zone, it's going to be rough," said Loney.

Leading the defensive charge for the Eagles is sophomore linebacker Randy Frazier, tallied 22 tackles against Tech to earn defensive Player of the Week honors from the MSU coaching staff. The native of Whitesburg leads the team in tackles with 79, 51 of which were solo stops.

The game will be Western's homecoming and will begin at 1:00 p.m. Central time.

EAGLES TO HOST AAU TEAM IN EXHIBITION

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State basketball fans will have an opportunity to preview the 1983-84 season and meet their favorite Eagle players on Thursday, Nov. 10, when the Marathon Oil AAU team returns for an exhibition game against the Eagles, with tip-off slated for 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Eagle Athletic Fund, the game also will be "Eagle Photo Night." Coach Wayne Martin, his staff, and the entire Eagle team will be on the floor of the Academic-Athletic Center from 6:30 p.m. until 6:50 p.m., and any fans with a camera may take pictures of their favorite MSU player.

As in the past, the EAF will provide a $250 scholarship which will be given to an MSU student who registers at the game. The drawing for the scholarship will be held at the end of the game, and the winner must be present to claim the scholarship.

Halftime entertainment will include a free throw contest for MSU sororities and a slam dunking contest for the fraternities.

The exhibition against Marathon Oil's AAU team has been a good luck charm of sorts for the Eagles. For the past three years, the Eagles have opened against the amateur team and have gone on to winning records.

All proceeds from the game will go the Eagle Athletic Fund for the continuing improvement of the MSU athletic program. Admission will be $3 for adults and $1 for students.

Defensively, Western welcomes back All-American Paul Gray at linebacker, where he has recorded 95 tackles, 15 of his stops coming against Eastern. He also intercepted an ECU pass with less than 30 seconds remaining in the game to stifle an Eastern chance at the win and give Western a shot at a 51-yard field goal with no time left in an effort for the victory.

Loney expects a rough time for his Eagle offense this weekend. Sophomore fullback Roger Cleveland had the best rushing effort by any Eagle this season with 70 yards against Tech, but he suffered a hip pointer midway through the third quarter and is questionable for Saturday.

The Eagles must find a way to break a 16-quarter string without a touchdown, dating back to the Sept. 24 game against Middle Tennessee when MSU scored its only two touchdowns of the season in the fourth quarter.

"Until we learn how to put it in the end zone, it's going to be rough," said Loney.

Leading the defensive charge for the Eagles is sophomore linebacker Randy Frazier, tallied 22 tackles against Tech to earn defensive Player of the Week honors from the MSU coaching staff. The native of Whitesburg leads the team in tackles with 79, 51 of which were solo stops.

The game will be Western's homecoming and will begin at 1:00 p.m. central time.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 30, 1982, at Morehead, Ky.---That rainy afternoon still lives in the memories of Eagle fans, since it is the last time the Eagles were on the high side of the scoreboard. It took WKU only 15 seconds to get on the board, because that's how long it took Davlin Mullen to weave through the MSU defenders with the kickoff to score a 95-yard TD. The Eagles replied with a 29-yard field goal by Lenn Duff and two rushing TDs, one by Roger Cleveland and the other by Mike Hanlin. WKU responded with two field goals and had pushed downfield to try for the winning score, but an Eagle interception ended the comeback hopes of the Toppers and gave MSU a 17-13 victory.

EAGLES TO HOST AAU TEAM IN EXHIBITION

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Morehead State basketball fans will have an opportunity to preview the 1983-84 season and meet their favorite Eagle players on Thursday, Nov. 10, when the Marathon Oil AAU team returns for an exhibition game against the Eagles, with tip-off slated for 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Eagle Athletic Fund, the game also will be "Eagle Photo Night." Coach Wayne Martin, his staff, and the entire Eagle team will be on the floor of the Academic-Athletic Center from 6:30 p.m. until 6:50 p.m., and any fans with a camera may take pictures of their favorite MSU player.

As in the past, the EAF will provide a $250 scholarship which will be given to an MSU student who registers at the game. The drawing for the scholarship will be held at the end of the game, and the winner must be present to claim the scholarship.

Halftime entertainment will include a free throw contest for MSU sororities and a slam dunking contest for the fraternities.

The exhibition against Marathon Oil's AAU team has been a good luck charm of sorts for the Eagles. For the past three years, the Eagles have opened against the amateur team and have gone on to winning records.

All proceeds from the game will go the Eagle Athletic Fund for the continuing improvement of the MSU athletic program. Admission will be $3 for adults and $1 for students.

VOLLEYBALL AGAINST BALL STATE AGAIN

MOREHEAD, Ky.---This Wednesday's volleyball match between Morehead State and Ball State will serve as a litmus of sorts as to how far the Lady Eagle squad has progressed since the beginning of the year.

The two squads met earlier in the year at Lexington for the Lady Kat Invitational, where the Indiana team took a five-game decision by scores of 12-15, 15-8, 15-3, 15-7. Since the tourney, however, the Lady Cardinals have struggled, falling to 7-15 while fashioning a 3-7 Mid-American Conference record.

"Ball State has a good team," said Lady Eagle coach Jim McClellan. "Because we've seen them earlier, we know what they can do, which should help us."

The Lady Eagles have been struggling themselves as of late, fighting a stomach virus and injuries to key players. Junior Mary Bradley is nursing ailing knees and sophomore Wendy Rumford is limited to back-line play by an injured foot.

The Lady Eagles fared badly in play at the University of Tennessee Tournament over the weekend, defeating only Memphis State and dropping three other matches and dropping to 19-21 on the season.

Following the Ball State match, the Lady Eagles will travel to Richmond to participate in the Eastern Kentucky Invitational.

LADY EAGLE TENNIS VICTORIOUS

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Following a winning weekend at the Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate Classic, the Morehead State Lady Eagle tennis team will host the Lady Eagle Invitational on Oct. 28 and 29 on the MSU campus.

Leading the Lady Eagles was junior Helen Curtis, who took titles in the No. 1 singles and as a member of the No. 1 doubles team, ranking her as the top collegiate player in the Commonwealth. Curtis recorded her 100th win at Morehead State earlier this fall and remains undefeated in play this year.

No. 4 player Vanessa Adams also took her level's title, defeating Maureen Rankine of Murray State in the finals, 6-2 6-2. The remaining Lady Eagles enjoyed success as most advanced to the semifinal round of competition before being eliminated.

Three players, Curtis, Sally-Anne Birch, and Helen Haddon, reached 100 career wins at MSU during the fall season. The Lady Eagles have lost only one match on the fall season, that to Murray State in the second match of the season by a 5-4 score.

EAGLES' AAU FOE OFFERS FAMILIAR FACES

MOREHEAD, Ky.---When the Morehead State University basketball team takes the floor against the Marathon Oil AAU team on Nov. 10, regional basketball aficionados may recognize several of the opposing players.

One sure to trigger the memories of Morehead State fans is Ted Hundley, who earned All-OVC honors for the Eagles in the 1975-76 and 1976-77 seasons. The Lexington native currently is ranked eighth on the MSU all-time scoring list with 1,450 points in 100 games. His senior year, he helped lead the Eagles to a 15-10 record under Jack Schalow.

Three former Eastern Kentucky players, Kenny Elliott, George Bryant, and Bruce Jones, will participate for the AAU team, as well as former Kentucky standouts Larry Stamper and James Lee.

The exhibition game will be the first of the 1983-84 season for the Eagles, who will defend their 1983 Ohio Valley Conference Tournament title. The game will feature Eagle Picture Night. Morehead State fans will be able to take pictures of their favorite Eagle players from 6:30 p.m. to 6:50 p.m. prior to the 7:30 p.m. tipoff. The game is sponsored by the Eagle Athletic Fund, which will provide a $250 scholarship for a lucky MSU student who attends the game.

First meeting was in 1939

LAST MEETING: Oct. 30, 1982, at Morehead, Ky.---That rainy afternoon still lives in the memories of Eagle fans, since it is the last time the Eagles were on the high side of the scoreboard. It took WKU only 15 seconds to get on the board, because that's how long it took Davlin Mullen to weave through the MSU defenders with the kickoff to score a 95-yard TD. The Eagles replied with a 29-yard field goal by Lenn Duff and two rushing TDs, one by Roger Cleveland and the other by Mike Hanlin. WKU responded with two field goals and had pushed downfield to try for the winning score, but an Eagle interception ended the comeback hopes of the Toppers and gave MSU a 17-13 victory.

RECORDS: Morehead State is 0-7 (L at Kentucky State 7-3; L Marshall 35-0; L Middle Tennessee 56-17; L at Murray State 38-0; L Austin Peay 14-3; L Akron 31-0; L at Tennessee Tech 14-3).
Western Kentucky is 1-5-1 (L at Louisville 41-23; L at Akron 14-13; L Southeastern Louisiana 27-7; L at Youngstown State 24-13; W Tennessee Tech 17-0; T at Eastern Kentucky 10-10).

37 quarters without a rushing touchdown (Roger Cleveland on a 17-yard run against Liberty Baptist on Nov. 6, 1982)
15 road games without a win (at Youngstown State in 1980, 20-14)

GAME NOTES

Morehead State at Western Kentucky

October 29, 1983

L.T. Smith Stadium, Bowling Green, Ky.

Game 8

LEDFOORD AMONG LEADERS: Senior wide receiver Mark Ledford is ranked among the nation's best in two statistical categories. The 6-1, 175-pound native of Mt. Sterling, Ky., is eighth among punt returners with 10 returns for 127 yards, a 12.7 yards-per-return average. He also ranks 19th in pass receiving, with 38 catches for 377 yards, a 9.9 average per catch. He averages 5.4 catches per game, with a high coming against Austin Peay on October 8, when he caught 10 tosses for 94 yards. Ledford is tops in the OVC in both categories.

INDIVIDUAL EAGLES IN THE OVC: Quarterbacks Adrian Breen and Mike Hanlin are sixth and seventh in the OVC in passing efficiency. Breen has 86.0 rating points, while Hanlin has 80.6. Punter Rick Cyrus is fifth in the conference in punting with a 37.3 average in 50 tries. Sophomore linebacker Randy Frazier is fourth in tackles with 79 (51 solo, 28 assists) after a 22-stop performance at Tennessee Tech last weekend. Senior defensive end Keith Curry had held the lead for fumble recoveries with three but now shares with Jeff Spencer of Middle Tennessee, who pulled in two against Austin Peay last week.

THE EAGLES IN THE OVC: As might be expected, the Eagles are ranked last in nearly every statistical category in the OVC. The only column that the Eagles are not in the cellar in is team defense, where they are ranked seventh, just ahead of Tennessee Tech.

EAGLE STRINGS:

- 10 straight losses (last win was over Western in Morehead on Oct. 30, 1982, by a score of 17-13).
- 16 quarters without a touchdown (scored two in the fourth quarter of the Middle Tennessee State game on Sept. 24)
- 37 quarters without a rushing touchdown (last scored by Roger Cleveland at Liberty Baptist on Nov. 26, 1982, in the third quarter).
- 15 road games without a win (last win was at Youngstown State in 1980, by a score of 20-14).

INJURY HITS EAGLE LINE: Already suffering from a dearth of experience, the Eagle offensive line took another blow in the loss of freshman guard Bill Poe, who suffered a knee injury in the Tennessee Tech game and underwent surgery earlier this week. He is the third Eagle lost to bad knees, along with backup receiver Eric Patterson and offensive tackle David Bax.

VOLLEYBALL TO TAKE ON NORSEWOMEN

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Taking advantage of ten-day break from competition, the Lady Eagle volleyball squad hopes to mend its injured before doing battle with the Norsewomen of Northern Kentucky University on Saturday, Nov. 5, in Highland Heights, Ky.

The match with NKU has been rescheduled from an original date of Nov. 22.

Two Lady Eagles starters, junior Mary Bradley and sophomore Wendy Rumford, have been healing hobbling aches during a respite that extends from last week's loss to Ball State in Lexington. MSU had been scheduled for a tournament at Eastern Kentucky University, but last-minute changes in the tournament format caused the Lady Eagles to drop out and enjoy a weekend of rest and relaxation.

"I gave the girls the weekend off from practice," said MSU coach Jim McClellan, "and I'm hoping Mary and Wendy will have a chance to recover before the Northern Kentucky match." Bradley has been suffering from bad knees, while Rumford has been plagued with a foot problem.

The match against Northern Kentucky will be a return engagement, as the Lady Eagles defeated NKU in Wetherby Gymnasium by a score of 15-5, 18-16, and 15-8 on Sept. 24.

Following the NKU match, the Lady Eagles will face a stiff road test in Wright State and Cincinnati before returning home for dates with Evansville and Louisville on Nov. 12.

Nov. 5, 1983, 1:30 p.m.
Jayne Stadium (10,000)
Game 9

KEEP THE HOME FIRES BURNING: The Eagles are looking for their first win of the 1983 season and hope the good omens bear out for them. Two years ago, the Eagles came to Jayne Stadium for the ninth game of the year against Liberty Baptist with an 0-8 record and came away with a 34-10 victory over the Flames, the only one in the 1981 season as MSU went 1-9. The only difference is that MSU coach Steve Loney was in his first year as the Eagle top dog; this will be Loney's last year as MSU head coach. He announced his resignation on Wednesday, effective at the end of the season.

THE RIVARLY: The first time the two teams met was in 1980. LBC holds a tenuous 2-1 lead in the series. The Eagles have outscored the Flames 64-46 over the three games. Scores from past games are:

1980--LBC 23, MSU 20    1981--MSU 34, LBC 10    1982--LBC 13, MSU 10

LAST MEETING: Nov. 6, 1982, at Lynchburg, Va.--The Flames kept the home team record in this series alive with a 13-10 come-from-behind win. KEEP AN EYE ON 81: Mark Ledford, MSU team captain, will have a shot at two school records this afternoon. His 51 receptions on the year put him just three short of a tie for the standing mark, set by John High in 1969 with 54. Ledford has 129 career receptions, just ten short of High's career record of 139 set from 1968-1971. Ledford currently is tied for ninth in the nation for receiving. The 6-1, 175-pound senior is from Mt. Sterling, Ky., and was a pre-season All-OVC pick. He currently has a 14-catch lead over his closest competitor in the OVC.

LAST MEETING: Nov. 6, 1982, at Lynchburg, Va.---The Flames kept the home team record in this series alive with a 13-10 come-from-behind win. ## EAGLES WIN; TAKE ON EASTERN MOREHEAD, Ky.---For a change, the Morehead State Eagle football team came off the field with a smile on its face. It's been a year since that's happened.

The Eagles recorded their first win of the 1983 season against Liberty Baptist at Jayne Stadium by a score of 24-16, setting the stage for next week's contest against Ohio Valley Conference power Eastern Kentucky.

Not only will the ECU game be the last appearance in Jayne Stadium for 12 Eagle seniors, it also will be the final showing for coach Steve Loney, who announced his resignation as MSU head coach last Wednesday. The resignation will become effective after the Nov. 19 game against Youngstown State.

"We're obviously meeting Eastern under different circumstances," said Loney in reference to the fact that ECU has not wrapped up the league title as yet. "Since I've been here, Eastern's always had the championship wrapped up when we played. Since they don't, this game is of tremendous significance for them. Coupled with the talent they have, it gives us real reason to be concerned."

The Eagles will be trying for their first win over the Colonels since 1971, when MSU took a 10-7 decision to close its season at 7-3. Since then, Eastern has padded its lead in the series to a commanding 34-15-4 advantage. The ECU rivalry is the oldest on the Morehead State schedule, dating back to 1927, the first year football was played on the MSU campus.

"It's a great tradition for us," said Loney. "It's a game that, if you love competition and doing battle, it'll be good. It's the kind of game that you don't worry about winning, but just go out and have fun. That's what competition is all about."

Loney knows that Eastern is a strong team defensively, and his young offensive line will be up against its most difficult test of the season.

"They are a sound defensive team," he said. "They've been hit by some injuries offensively this year, and the defense has had to carry them a couple of times when the offense wasn't able to produce the way they'd like. You know they've got talent when they can go to the bench and bring in a young man who can rush for over 200 yards."

Loney was referring to James Cox, a freshman tailback at Eastern who had seen only one down of action as a Colonel prior to last Saturday's game against Tennessee Tech. Cox emerged as a standout, gaining 212 yards and scoring three touchdowns as ECU swamped Tech 24-7.

The Eagles will try to counter the strong ECU offensive punch with senior wide receiver Mark Ledford, who set his second school record in as many games against Liberty Baptist Saturday. His 57 catches put him three up on the old record for receptions in a season, and drew him to within four of the school's career reception record. Against Western Kentucky two weeks week before last, the Mt. Sterling senior made 13 receptions to break the single-game catch mark.

Backed by the performances of Ledford, junior receiver Mike Trosper, and junior quarterback Mike Hanlin, the Eagles were able to snap an eleven-game losing spin and double the season's touchdown output. Hanlin's two rushing touchdowns were the first on the ground since Oct. 30 of last year.

While the Eagles took control of the game in the first quarter, a determined Liberty Baptist team made the late sledding tough for MSU. A forced fumble by sophomore linebacker Randy Frazier enabled the Eagles to finally close the door. Frazier ended the game with a total of 23 tackles to put in in the running for the conference Defensive Player of the Week honors.

"Hanlin had his best game of the season," said Loney, "and John Dunn showed a great deal of determination in his running."

Dunn's 109 yards on the day was the first 100-yard-plus day for MSU this season and nearly doubled the seasonal output for the Eagles on the ground. Dunn is a sophomore from Cincinnati's Madeira High School.

EAGLES INK THORNBERRY

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State Eagle basketball team got a jump on next year with the signing of Jeff Thornberry, a 6-3 guard from Clark County High School in Winchester, Ky. Thornberry committed to the Eagles on Nov. 11.

Thornberry becomes the first recruit secured by the Eagles, taking advantage of the early signing period established by the NCAA. He has averaged 9.8 points per game and 5.0 rebounds while leading his team to the Region 10 championship last year as a junior. He recorded 79 assists and led the team in steals with 49.

"We're happy to have Jeff," said MSU coach Wayne Martin. "He's a young man we feel very confident about, having had him in our camps for the last five years. In that amount of time, we believe we get to know a player very well."

Thornberry will come to the Eagles at a time when they will need strong candidates at guard, with the graduation of three players this year.

"Jeff can contribute to our team as a freshman," said Martin. "By the time he is a sophomore, he will challenge for a starting position at point guard. He's a great passer and defensive player, and it's an additional plus when we can get a player who's been under two fine coaches such as Lake Kelly and Guy Strong."

Thornberry will join another Winchester native on the Eagle roster. Brian Kelly, a sophomore who is eligible this year after transferring from Central Missouri State, also is a graduate of Clark County, where he played for his father Lake Kelly, a former MSU assistant coach.

LADY EAGLES CLOSE HOME SEASON

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State volleyball team returns to close its home season this weekend after three road matches to take on the University of Louisville and the University of Evansville.

The Lady Eagles have locked horns with both Louisville and Evansville once this year, dropping both contests. "We know what they can do," said MSU assistant coach Martha Rust, "I just hope we're ready."

The Lady Eagles, who have compiled a 20-24 record, are looking for a good showing after losing two of their last three matches.

The Lady Eagles' last victory came in a 14-16, 15-8, 15-7, 15-8 decision over Northern Kentucky. Since that period, the Lady Eagles have lost to Wright State (10-15, 8-15, 15-13, 8-15) and Cincinnati (1-15, 13-15, 12-15).

"We have just been playing terribly," said Rust. "I just don't know what it is. When we played at Cincinnati, they just humiliated us. They had players blocking everything we tried, and their serves also were good."

After this weekend's matches, the Lady Eagles will prepare for the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament, which will be held at Youngstown State on Nov. 18-19.

The Lady Eagles have locked horns with both Louisville and Evansville once this year, dropping both contests. "We know what they can do," said MSU assistant coach Martha Rust, "I just hope we're ready."

The Lady Eagles, who have compiled a 20-24 record, are looking for a good showing after losing two of their last three matches.

The Lady Eagles' last victory came in a 14-16, 15-8, 15-7, 15-8 decision over Northern Kentucky. Since that period, the Lady Eagles have lost to Wright State (10-15, 8-15, 15-13, 8-15) and Cincinnati (1-15, 13-15, 12-15).

"We have just been playing terribly," said Rust. "I just don't know what it is. When we played at Cincinnati, they just humiliated us. They had players blocking everything we tried, and their serves also were good."

After this weekend's matches, the Lady Eagles will prepare for the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament, which will be held at Youngstown State on Nov. 18-19.

LADY EAGLES CLOSE HOME SEASON

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State volleyball team returns to close its home season this weekend after three road matches to take on the University of Louisville and the University of Evansville.

The Lady Eagles have locked horns with both Louisville and Evansville once this year, dropping both contests. "We know what they can do," said MSU assistant coach Martha Rust, "I just hope we're ready."

GAME NOTES

Eastern Kentucky Colonels (6-1-1, 5-1)
vs. Morehead State Eagles (1-8-0, 0-5)
Nov. 12, 1983, 1:30 p.m.
Jayne Stadium (10,000)
Game 10

THE GRAYBEARD RIVALRY: The battle between Eastern Kentucky and Morehead State is the oldest renewal of rivalry on the MSU schedule this season, and only the meetings between Eastern and Western Kentucky are older on the EKU slate. However, a look at the two schools' media guides creates a question as to exactly when the rivalry did begin. According to the EKU guide, the first meeting was in 1924, which was an EKU win by a score of 14-0. Going by the MSU football book, the series began in 1927, which also was a Colonel win, 12-6. Among the two games in "The Twilight Zone" is a 67-0 EKU victory, which would rank as the second worst defeat in MSU history. That game was played in 1925.

THE SERIES RECORD(S): According to the EKU book, the series stands in at 36-15-3, while the MSU book says the standings are at 34-15-4. One thing they agree on: EKU has the overwhelming lead, whatever it is.

COACH VS. COACH: Roy Kidd is 14-4-1 against Morehead State during his tenure at EKU. He was an assistant at MSU in 1962, two years before the opening of Jayne Stadium. Steve Loney is 0-2 against EKU.

COACHES: Steve Loney is 7-23 in his third and final year at MSU. His resignation, announced Nov. 2, will become effective next Sunday, after the Eagles play at Youngstown State.
Roy Kidd is 152-56-7 in his twentieth year at EKU.

NATIONAL LEADERS ON THE FIELD: There are several players in today's game among the best in the business in I-AA competition. MSU's Mark Ledford is tenth in the nation in receiving, with 57 catches for 669 yards (6.3 catches per game). The MSU pass defense is sixth, allowing only 121.3 yards per game. Eastern Kentucky has a passel of leaders. Jamie Lovett, EKU's placekicker, is tied for 13th in field goals with a 10-16 mark. Five of those successes came against Youngstown State, tying the national record for field goals in a game. Although injured, Terence Thompson remains in the stats, holding at 17th among rushers with 661 yards. Kick returner Tony James is the best in the nation, averaging 34.9 yards on returns. The EKU rushing attack is 14th in the nation with 209.5 per game, which is just over six yards more than the average given up by the MSU rushing defense. The EKU run defense is sixth, allowing 89.1, which is three times better than what MSU has earned on the ground. The EKU overall defensive performance places the Colonels 12th with 250.1.

OFFICIALS FOR TODAY'S GAME: Referee--Tom Weber; Umpire--Bill Rapp; Linesman--Burrell Crowell; Line Judge--Don Pace; Field Judge--Frank Jump; Back Judge--Ray Street.

AND NOW FOR SOMETHING COMPLETELY DIFFERENT: Today is the first time in recent memory that ECU and MSU meet without the Colonels having secured the OVC championship. A win today will guarantee ECU its fifth consecutive post-season playoff berth.

THURKILL IS MSU'S BEST TIGHT END: Although details are sketchy because of the vagueness of sources in differentiating between a split end and a tight end, David Thurkill appears to be the best tight end ever to wear the Blue and Gold. He currently stands at 110 catches in his career, covering 792 yards. Former All-Pro Gary Shirk is the only other tight end who comes close to Thurkill's numbers for catches. Shirk had 96 receptions in his career as an Eagle, good for 1,236 yards. Thurkill has recovered from a slow start that saw him with only one reception for three yards after four games. He took advantage of the passing bonanza in the Austin Peay game to snare nine throws for 100 yards and has been working at a full head of steam since.

LEDFOORD BECOMING MSU'S BEST RECEIVER: With two school records already secured, senior wide receiver Mark Ledford is aiming at another this afternoon. His fifth catch of the day will rewrite the standard for career receptions. He currently stands at 135, and the record is 139, set by John High from 1968-1971. If Mark can average 94 yards over the next two games, he also will have the yardage in a season record.

EAGLES WRAP AT YOUNGSTOWN

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The phrase "playing for pride" that is used by many television commentators will take on new meaning for the Morehead State football Eagles as they travel to Youngstown State for a season-ending bout with Penguins on Saturday, Nov. 19.

Coming off a 56-0 thrashing at the hands of conference co-champion Eastern Kentucky, the Eagles now stand at 1-9 on the year. According to head coach Steve Loney, a number of factors are working against the Eagles this week.

"This is not a natural rivalry for us," said Loney, "it's a long road trip, it's the last game of the season, we've got a 1-9 record, and the head coach is out of a job at the end of the game. That's a lot to put on the shoulders of these young men."

Loney, whose resignation becomes effective at the conclusion of the YSU game, sees the matchup as one that will tell the players a lot about what they are made of.

"It's easy to play well when everything is going well," said Loney. "The real test of a person is to produce when the going is tough. I think a number of our players will shape their futures the Saturday. It will be an evaluation of what type of people we are. I think it's a game we can win, but every possible factor is against us...the weather, being on the road, our record, and the coaching situation."

Youngstown State offers the Eagles an opportunity to close the season on a winning note and gain a victory in the Ohio Valley Conference.

The Penguins have been struggling as of late, dropping their last four decisions after a 4-2 start, the most recent loss to OVC foe Murray State, who overcame a snow-covered field at Youngstown to take a 19-7 decision.

Leading the YSU attack is tight end John Goode, a 6-2 senior from Cleveland, Ohio. Ranked among the top 15 receivers in the nation in Division I-AA all season, he has caught 45 passes, covering 960 yards and scoring 11 touchdowns. He has two 80-yard touchdown catches to his credit this year, and leads the Penguins in scoring.

Close behind in the YSU scoring is placekicker Paul McFadden, who has 61 points this fall with an 11-21 success rate on field goals. He currently is working on a string of extra point kicks that has extended to 38.

Junior linebacker Pat Toler leads the Penguin defense with 145 tackles, 3 of which are solo stops.

The Eagles will travel without starting safety Chris Spalding, who suffered a knee injury against Eastern Kentucky. Also out is freshman tackle Jeff Parson, who injured an ankle. The Eagles will welcome back defensive lineman Ray Winebrenner, who had been sidelined with an ankle injury suffered during the Western Kentucky game.

Senior wide receiver Mark Ledford continued his assault on the MSU record books Saturday when he eclipsed the Eagle record for career receptions. He currently stands at 141 catches during his tenure.

Another Eagle attacking the record book is placekicker Lenn Duff. He has a string of 36 consecutive extra point successes, tying the record set by Don Russell from 1973-74. Duff's string extends back to the 1980 season, when his last missed occurred at Liberty Baptist in a 23-20 loss.

With 19 completions Saturday, the Eagles will tie the record for team passing completions, and ten more attempts will tie the team mark in that category.

EAGLES PREMIER IN HOMESTAND

MOREHEAD, Ky.---After a lackluster tuneup against a Marathon Oil AAU team which tagged the Eagles with an 84-73 loss, coach Wayne Martin has been cracking the whip over his Morehead State basketball team, pushing for improvement as MSU prepares for its season opener against Tennessee Wesleyan on Saturday, Nov. 26, at 3 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

"We didn't play with enthusiasm against AAU," assessed Martin, "but we've been able to take the loss and turn it into something positive. We needed to realize that we weren't going to succeed simply by resting on last year's success. We've got to go out and earn it all over again."

Wesleyan is the first test for the Eagles, who defeated TWU by a score of 87-61 in the home opener last year. Martin believes the Eagles will face a foe similar to the TWU squad of last year.

"They're a small team, but they can shoot well," said Martin. Against the Eagles last year, TWU hit only 39 percent of its field goal attempts, but seven of their successes were from three-point range. A trio of those extra-value shots came from 6-0 guard Brock Woody, who returns as the fourth leading scorer for the Bulldogs and coach Dwain Farmer.

One concern for Martin is depth across the front line, a factor that could become critical with an injury to All-OVC selection Earl Harrison. The senior forward, who led MSU in rebounding last year, is suffering from damage to one of his arches and has missed several practices. Martin expects him to be ready when the ball goes up Saturday.

Once out of the gate, the Eagles will have to fly fast and furious as they will host Lincoln Memorial on Monday, Nov. 28, and Alabama-Huntsville

EAGLE RECORDS UP FOR GRABS: Several Morehead State records are on the line this afternoon, two of which are being challenged by placekicker Lenn Duff. The senior from Mason, Ohio, currently is tied for the MSU record for consecutive successful point-after-touchdown attempts. His string dates back to the 1980 season, when he recorded the only miss of his collegiate career against Liberty Baptist in a 23-20 loss. He now stands at 36, which is the record held by Don Russell, former Eagle Sports Network play-by-play announcer. Duff also needs only six points to tie the MSU record for points scored by kicking. That mark is 109, held by Kirk Andrews and set from 1969-72. Duff currently has 18 successful field goals and 49-50 PAT tries for a total of 103 points.

AIR EAGLES SET FOR TAKEOFF: With MSU's penchant for passing this season, the Eagles have been racking up several records in the air. Mark Ledford now holds the game, season, and career records for receptions and has a chance to break the season yardage record (he needs 133 yards today). Adrian Breen set game records for passes attempted (54), completed (31), and total offensive plays (79). Now the Eagles as a team are closing in on the season records for passes attempted and completed. With 284 pass attempts this year, the Eagles need only ten tries to tie the school record. A total of 19 completions today would tie the record for successful passes in a season.

COACH VS. COACH: Bill Narduzzi is 4-1 against Morehead State during his tenure as YSU coach. Steve Loney is 0-2 against Youngstown State as MSU head coach.

COACHES' RECORDS: Steve Loney is 7-24 in his third and final year at MSU. His resignation, announced Nov. 2, is effective at the end of today's game. Bill Narduzzi is 56-40-1 in his ninth year at YSU.

NATIONAL LEADERS ON THE FIELD: Morehead State's 15th-ranked passing defense will face the 14th-ranked YSU passing offense with a weakened backfield. Senior safety Chris Spalding suffered an injured knee against Eastern Kentucky last Saturday, and his backup, freshman Scott Schilling, pulled a hamstring in practice and will not play. MSU's Mark Ledford stands at ninth in receiving, while YSU's John Goode is 15th in scoring and Robert Thompson is fifth in kickoff returns. YSU's total offensive output is 13th in the country, and the team's kickoff return average is tenth.

EAGLE OPENER: The basketball Eagles, pre-season choice to win the OVC and repeat as NCAA representative, will open their 1983-84 season a week from today when they play host to Tennessee Wesleyan in the Academic-Athletic Center at 3 p.m.

LADY EAGLES GEAR FOR TOURNAMENT

MOREHEAD, Ky.---After closing their home season with a split of two matches, the Morehead State volleyball Eagles are preparing for the close of their year at the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament at Youngstown State on Nov. 18-19.

MSU has been seeded fourth in the tourney, which will begin with pool play on Friday, Nov. 18. The Eagles share pooling with No. 1 seed Tennessee Tech, No. 5 seed Youngstown State, and No. 8 seed Murray State, a pooling that Eagle coach Jim McClellan sees as advantageous.

"I prefer being in the pool with Tennessee Tech rather than with Eastern Kentucky," said McClellan. "We've already beaten everyone in our pool once this year."

In weekend action, the Eagles revenged an earlier loss to the University of Evansville with a three-game dispatching of the Lady Aces, 15-10, 15-9, 15-7. However, the home season ended on a sour note with a five-game loss to Louisville, 11-15, 15-11, 10-15, 15-10, 8-15. Sophomore Wendy Rumford considered the loss to Louisville as a good sign.

"We did well taking them to five games," said Rumford, who is back at 100 percent after nursing a foot injury earlier. "If we continue to play that way in the tourney, we'll do okay."

The last two years have seen the Eagles advance to the final match of the tournament, only to be foiled by Eastern Kentucky on both occasions.

WOMEN'S TENNIS COMPLETES SUCCESSFUL FALL

MOREHEAD, Ky.---A tie for the Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate tennis title and a 17-1 record highlighted the fall season for the Morehead State University Lady Eagle tennis squad.

Bey Mayhew's team completed the KWIC tournament in a tie for the top spot with the University of Louisville Lady Cardinals in the six-team field, hosted by Louisville.

"We're extremely pleased by the success we have had," said Mayhew, who notched her 100th coaching win during the fall season.

"We hope we can carry the momentum over into our spring season," she added.

Mayhew was not the only Eagle to reach the century mark. A trio of juniors, Helen Curtis, Helen Haddon, and Sally-Anne Birch, all chalked up their 100th career victories during the season.

Aside from her 100th win, Curtis, a native of Bournemouth, England, was rated as the No. 1 singles player in the Ohio Valley Conference, was the top singles player in the KWIC tournament, and teamed with Birch as the state's top collegiate doubles combination.

Curtis led the Lady Eagles in wins during the fall campaign with a 30-4 record. Haddon, who hails from Plymouth, England, netted a 28-1 record over the 18-match season.

MSU's only loss was to OVC rival Murray State in the Lady Eagles' second match of the season. After the 5-4 loss, Morehead State fashioned a 16-match winning streak.

WOMEN'S TENNIS COMPLETES FALL SEASON

MOREHEAD, Ky.---A tie for the Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate tennis title and a 17-1 record highlighted the fall season for the Morehead State University Lady Netters.

Bev Mayhew's squad completed the KWIC tournament in a tie for the top spot with the University of Louisville Lady Cardinals in the six-team field, hosted by Louisville.

"We're extremely pleased by the success we have had this fall," said Mayhew, who notched her 100th career coaching win during the fall campaign.

Mayhew was not the only person associated with the Lady Eagles program to hit the century mark. A trio of juniors, Helen Curtis, Helen Haddon and Sally-Anne Birch, all chalked up their 100th career victory during the season.

Aside from her 100th win, Curtis, from Bournemouth, England, was rated as the number one singles player in the Ohio Valley Conference, and was also the top singles player in the KWIC tournament and teamed with Birch as the top doubles combination in the KWIC.

MSU's only loss of the season came at the hands of OVC rival Murray State in the Lady Eagles' second match of the season by a 5-4 count. MSU put together a 16 match winning streak after suffering the loss.

Sophomore Vanessa Adams of Brighton, England, also enjoyed an excellent fall campaign, compiling a 29-2 record. Other team members were Pam Reeves, Chabie Tlhapne and Debbie Payne.

GAME NOTES

Morehead State Eagles (1-9, 0-6)
vs. Youngstown State Penguins (4-6, 2-4)
Nov. 19 1983, 1:30 p.m.
Stambaugh Sports Complex (15, 833)
Game 11

EAGLE RECORDS UP FOR GRABS: Several Morehead State records are on the line this afternoon, two of which are being challenged by placekicker Lenn Duff. The senior from Mason, Ohio, currently is tied for the MSU record for consecutive successful point-after-touchdown attempts. His string dates back to the 1980 season, when he recorded the only miss of his collegiate career against Liberty Baptist in a 23-20 loss. He now stands at 36, which is the record held by Don Russell, former Eagle Sports Network play-by-play announcer. Duff also needs only six points to tie the MSU record for points scored by kicking. That mark is 109, held by Kirk Andrews and set from 1969-72. Duff currently has 18 successful field goals and 49-50 PAT tries for a total of 103 points.

AIR EAGLES SET FOR TAKEOFF: With MSU's penchant for passing this season, the Eagles have been racking up several records in the air. Mark Ledford now holds the game, season, and career records for receptions and has a chance to break the season yardage record (he needs 133 yards today). Adrian Breen set game records for passes attempted (54), completed (31), and total offensive plays (79). Now the Eagles as a team are closing in on the season records for passes attempted and completed. With 284 pass attempts this year, the Eagles need only ten tries to tie the school record. A total of 19 completions today would tie the record for successful passes in a season.

COACH VS. COACH: Bill Narduzzi is 4-1 against Morehead State during his tenure as YSU coach. Steve Loney is 0-2 against Youngstown State as MSU head coach.

COACHES' RECORDS: Steve Loney is 7-24 in his third and final year at MSU. His resignation, announced Nov. 2, is effective at the end of today's game. Bill Narduzzi is 56-40-1 in his ninth year at YSU.

NATIONAL LEADERS ON THE FIELD: Morehead State's 15th-ranked passing defense will face the 14th-ranked YSU passing offense with a weakened backfield. Senior safety Chris Spalding suffered an injured knee against Eastern Kentucky last Saturday, and his backup, freshman Scott Schilling, pulled a hamstring in practice and will not play. MSU's Mark Ledford stands at ninth in receiving, while YSU's John Goode is 15th in scoring and Robert Thompson is fifth in kickoff returns. YSU's total offensive output is 13th in the country, and the team's kickoff return average is tenth.

EAGLE OPENER: The basketball Eagles, pre-season choice to win the OVC and repeat as NCAA representative, will open their 1983-84 season a week from today when they play host to Tennessee Wesleyan in the Academic-Athletic Center at 3 p.m.

LADY EAGLES KICK OFF BASKETBALL SLATE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---It happens around the same time each season when basketball teams start feeling the "itch" to test their moves against players other than their own teammates. The "itch" has hit the Morehead State Lady Eagle squad.

"We are tired of seeing the same moves in practice every day," said MSU boss Mickey Wells, who begins his ninth campaign and is hoping for his seventh consecutive winning season.

"Unlike other years, we have not been able to schedule an exhibition game this preseason. We need desperately to face some outside competition, and get the kids ready for the season."

MSU senior guard Rita Berry, echoed the statements of her head coach.

"I think I can speak for the entire team when I say we are ready to start the season. I don't care who it's against, I'm ready to start playing."

One reason for the eagerness to get the 1983-84 season underway is the Lady Eagles strong nucleus of returning players, blended in with a talented group of newcomers.

"I have really been pleased with the way the young kids have moved into our program and are challenging veterans for playing time," Wells said. "Depth is the strongest facet of our game. We have nine or 10 kids that can start, and may start from time to time during the season."

Wells added that the opposition will dictate who the Lady Eagles starting five will be.

"We have a unique situation this year," Wells continued. "The players on this team are versatile and are more flexible."

LADY EAGLES KICK OFF SLATE 2-2-2-2-2

The Lady Eagles held a Blue-Gold game in Manchester, Ohio, Wells' hometown on Saturday Nov. 12, and the MSU coach was pleased with what he saw.

"We played with good intensity and got to see just how well the newcomers have adjusted to our program."

The Blue squad won the game 60-48, as junior Connie Appelman and senior Lynn Miley, scored 14 points each. Freshman September Colbert chipped in 11. The Gold team was paced by a pair of first-year Lady Eagles, freshman Bernice Linner and junior Penny Teegarden. Both players netted 12 points.

Now that the Blue-Gold game is history, as is much of preseason practice, the Lady Eagles can set their sights on the season opener against Ohio State this Saturday afternoon at the Academic-Athletic Center at 5 p.m.

The Lady Bucks are ranked 16th in the Street & Smith magazine poll and will present the Lady Eagles with a tough opener.

"We are happy to have a team like Ohio State on our schedule, and I think it says a lot for our program by playing a top 20 team at your own place," Wells said.

The two teams have met just once. OSU captured a 66-44 contest in 1982.

Morehead State will travel to Ohio University on Mon., Nov. 28 to tangle with the Lady Bobcats.

EAGLES PREMIER IN HOMESTAND

MOREHEAD, Ky.---After a lackluster tuneup against a Marathon Oil AAU team which tagged the Eagles with an 84-73 loss, coach Wayne Martin has been cracking the whip over his Morehead State basketball team, pushing for improvement as MSU prepares for its season opener against Tennessee Wesleyan on Saturday, Nov. 26, at 3 p.m. in the Academic-Athletic Center.

"We didn't play with enthusiasm against AAU," assessed Martin, "but we've been able to take the loss and turn it into something positive. We needed to realize that we weren't going to succeed simply by resting on last year's success. We've got to go out and earn it all over again."

Wesleyan is the first test for the Eagles, who defeated TWU by a score of 87-61 in the home opener last year. Martin believes the Eagles will face a foe similar to the TWU squad of last year.

"They're a small team, but they can shoot well," said Martin. Against the Eagles last year, TWU hit only 39 percent of its field goal attempts, but seven of their successes were from three-point range. A trio of those extra-value shots came from 6-0 guard Brock Woody, who returns as the fourth leading scorer for the Bulldogs and coach Dwain Farmer.

One concern for Martin is depth across the front line, a factor that could become critical with an injury to All-OVC selection Earl Harrison. The senior forward, who led MSU in rebounding last year, is suffering from damage to one of his arches and has missed several practices. Martin expects him to be ready when the ball goes up Saturday.

Once out of the gate, the Eagles will have to fly fast and furious as they will host Lincoln Memorial on Monday, Nov. 28, and Alabama-Huntsville on Wednesday, Nov. 30. Tip-off for both games is 7:30 p.m.

LMU returns to the Eagles schedule after a three-year hiatus. First-year head coach Rick Byrd's team already has four games under its belt with road clashes at North Carolina-Asheville and the David Lipscomb Tournament and a home game with Cumberland College. Leading the Railsplitters will be sophomore forward Keith Beck, who tops LMU's returning scorers with a 14 points-per-game average. His eight boards per contest also was tops for the Railsplitters.

The UAH Chargers gave the Eagles a rough first half last year, stretching out to an eleven-point lead in the first period before the Eagles could whittle the margin down to a tie with nine seconds in the half, then took the lead on a ten-foot shot by guard Guy Minnifield at the buzzer. After trading baskets early in the second stanza, the Eagles kicked in the afterburners to take a 13-point lead before easing off in the last six minutes and earning a five-point win, 76-63.

Gone from the Chargers is high-scoring forward Cluade Jones, who popped in 30 against MSU last year, but back in guard Lorenzo Duncan, who scored 19 to back up Ford.

Following the three-game homestand, the Eagles will take to the road for what may be the toughest two games of the season, a Dec. 3 date at 17th-ranked Kansas and a Dec. 7 contest against Tennessee in Knoxville.

LMU returns to the Eagles schedule after a three-year hiatus. First-year head coach Rick Byrd's team already has four games under its belt with road clashes at North Carolina-Asheville and the David Lipscomb Tournament and a home game with Cumberland College. Leading the Railsplitters will be sophomore forward Keith Beck, who tops LMU's returning scorers with a 14 points-per-game average. His eight boards per contest also was tops for the Railsplitters.

The UAH Chargers gave the Eagles a rough first half last year, stretching out to an eleven-point lead in the first period before the Eagles could whittle the margin down to a tie with nine seconds in the half, then took the lead on a ten-foot shot by guard Guy Minnifield at the buzzer. After trading baskets early in the second stanza, the Eagles kicked in the after-burners to take a 13-point lead before easing off in the last six minutes and earning a five-point win, 76-63.

Gone from the Chargers is high-scoring forward Cluade Jones, who popped in 30 against MSU last year, but back in guard Lorenzo Duncan, who scored 19 to back up Ford.

Following the three-game homestand, the Eagles will take to the road for what may be the toughest two games of the season, a Dec. 3 date at 17th-ranked Kansas and a Dec. 7 contest against Tennessee in Knoxville.

FOOTBALL HONORS LEADERS

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Six Morehead State football players were honored by the Eagle coaching staff at the annual football banquet held on the MSU campus and sponsored by the MSU Quarterback Club.

Senior wide receiver Mark Ledford was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player for the second straight year. The Mt. Sterling native led the Ohio Valley Conference in receptions with 74 for 948 yards, earning all-conference honors for the second consecutive year as well.

Sophomore linebacker Randy Frazier was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player. His 132 tackles led the Eagles defensively, earning him fourth place in the conference.

Rookie of the Year honors went to freshman quarterback Adrian Breen. The Cincinnati set three school records and an OVC record during an outstanding performance against Austin Peay, throwing 54 times and completing 31 for 161 yards.

The Roscoe Playforth Award for the team's unsung hero went to junior tight end Mike Trosper, who placed third in the team receiving categories. His 14.0 yards-per-reception average was the highest among the Eagles.

The Eagle Award for outstanding effort in each game went to senior offensive lineman Tony McCoy. The only senior in the offensive line, McCoy provided leadership to a young group and consistently graded highly for effort.

The President's Award for outstanding performance in athletics and academics went to senior defensive back Tim Frame. An art major, Frame maintains a 3.71 grade point average, led the team in pass breakups, tied for the lead in interceptions, and was sixth in tackles while a newlywed and a first-year starter.

EAGLES OPEN AT HOME AGAINST MARSHALL

MOREHEAD, Ky.---After suffering a setback on the road against Kentucky State, Morehead State University's football Eagles will return to the friendly confines of Jayne Stadium to kick off their 1983 home season against Marshall on Saturday, Sept. 17. The Parents Weekend game will begin at 2:30 p.m.

The Eagles, now 0-1 on the season, enjoyed a 5-1 record in Jayne Stadium last year and hope to get the new home slate started on the right foot. The Thundering Herd also will be hoping to get on track, having lost to Eastern Michigan in its season opener, then dropping its home debut against Illinois State last Saturday.

"Marshall will be a better opponent than Kentucky State," said MSU coach Steve Loney. "They have more talent and more depth, since they have just come off of I-A status."

With the schools separated by only 65 miles, a natural rivalry has developed between the two, but Loney is not placing an undue amount of importance on the game.

"It's a big game for us, but it's not the Super Bowl of the season," he said. "It's not a do-or-die situation for us. We're still finding out how our players are reacting in game situations."

Primary to the Herd defense is senior punter Pat Velarde, who appears to be the heir apparent to the national crown vacated by the graduation of MSU All-American John Christopher. Thus far, Velarde has a booming 46.0 average per kick.

Rick Cyrus (Louisa/Lawrence Co.) has assumed the Eagle punting chores and logged a busy afternoon against KSU, tying the school record for punts in a game with 11. He ended the day with a 39.8-yard average.

One area needing improvement for the Eagles is the offensive line. MSU quarterback Mike Hanlin (St. Mary's, WV/St. Mary's) had a difficult afternoon in Frankfort, spending a good deal of his time evading a persistent Kentucky State rush which held the Eagles to a negative total rushing figure. When Hanlin could find time to look for a receiver, he had a better time of it, completing 6 of 14 attempts for 50 yards.

All-OVC selection Mark Ledford (Mt. Sterling/Montgomery Co.) helped keep the Eagles in the black on the offensive ledger with 4 catches for 39 yards. He also returned 2 Thorobred punts for 33 yards.

The Eagle defense turned in a good showing, led by senior safety Chris Spalding (Louisville/Male), who killed two KSU drives with a fumble recovery and a pass interception, and added a pass break-up to his totals.

"The results just show that it's easier defensively at this time in the season," said Loney. "If the defense makes a mistake and the offense doesn't capitalize on it, you're not hurt, but if you make a mistake on offense, you can get killed."

The lone Kentucky State score in the 7-3 defensive scrap came in the first quarter, when Cyrus bobbled a snap and the Thorobreds recovered on the Eagle four-yard line, pushing it in two plays later.

The Eagles responded with a second-quarter field goal from Lenn Duff (Mason, Ohio/Geo. Mason), but could not get the game-winner over in the second half.

"I think the biggest disappointment for me is not the loss as much as the fact that we had the opportunity to correct all our errors in the second half, but we weren't able to bite the bullet and get the job done," said Loney.

"We don't want to hit the panic button now," he continued. "We've got to progress each practice. We've found out where we are, and now we have to take it from there."

The Eagles hope to get much-needed experience on the offensive line with the return of senior tackle Tony McCoy (Hamilton, Ohio/Garfield), who was forced from the starting lineup by a nagging groin injury.

Halfback Brian Shimer (Naples, Fla./Naples) remains on the MSU hospital list with a shoulder separation. He may be joined by Duff, who pulled a groin muscle against Kentucky State and is questionable. Eric Patterson (Russell/Russell) returns after sitting out last Saturday with a strained knee. He will provide back-up support for Ledford at the wide receiver spot.

EAGLES PREPARE FOR OVC SEASON

MOREHEAD, Ky.---As Morehead State football coach Steve Loney prepares for the beginning of his 1983 Ohio Valley Conference season, one thing he won't be accused of is looking ahead or not paying attention to details.

With the Eagles off to an 0-2 start, Loney and his staff are re-evaluating their players with improvement foremost in their minds.

"We'll constantly evaluate our people," he said after Saturday's 35-0 loss to interstate rival Marshall. "There will be changes, but we can't make changes for the sake of making changes. We can't be changing philosophies on the players. All we can do is look at the people who played well and make ourselves as sound as we can."

One step he will take in firming up his team is to examine his staff's practices.

"We are going to look at our practice sessions hard," said Loney.

"We may go with more live work than we have."

The Eagles open their OVC slate against Middle Tennessee, currently 2-0 after a pair of big wins. At the pre-season football media day, Blue Raider coach James "Boots" Donnelly said his team's past emphasis on defense would be changed this year due to the graduation of a majority of the starting unit that shut out the Eagles at Murfreesboro last year.

Instead of the anticipated emphasis on offense, Donnelly's team has presented a well-balanced front in its first two battles, a 51-0 drubbing of Savannah State and a 39-3 victory over Tennessee-Martin.

Leading the solid Blue Raider offense is receiver Marshan Jolly, who has snared 13 passes for 248 yards and two touchdowns. As strong on the ground as they are in the air, the Raiders have a balanced infantry wing, led by junior Vince Hall. Last year, Hall scored three touchdowns in

MTSU's 30-0 blanking of MSU. Thus far, Hall has 159 yards on 19 attempts. He is backed up by Kevin Baker (16 rushes, 71 yards) and Joe Horning (16 rushes, 63 yards).

Mickey Corwin holds the quarterback job for the Raiders and has impressive passing statistics, hitting on 26 of 37 tries for 408 yards and three touchdowns. He has been intercepted once.

Although MSU's defense did the job in the season opener against Kentucky State, it had a difficult time against Marshall's Thundering Herd, allowing two Herd backs to earn more than 100 yards each.

"We've got to make ourselves more aggressive and intimidating on defense," said Loney. "Against Marshall, we were catching people rather than hitting them. We're not crisp in our hitting, and our stunting game is weak."

While the Eagles have not scored a touchdown in the last 12 quarters of play, Loney has seen improvement in his offensive unit.

"The stats showed we did a better job against a better opponent," he said in comparing the offensive output of the Marshall and Kentucky State games. "A lot of the blame has been put on the offensive line, but it's not all their fault, There are other people out there who have to do their job consistently as well.

"Our concern now is improving," Loney summed up. "We can't stay status quo and expect to win. Right now, we're going to set short-range goals for our players and work to achieve them."

One area Loney will work to improve is field position and the ability to drive the football down the field. Against Marshall, the Eagles struggled to invade enemy territory. On the season, the Eagles have converted only two of 29 third-down situations.

THE SERIES: Begun in the 1930-31 season, the Eagles hold a 2-1 advantage. The inaugural game went to the Railsplitters by a score of 28-23, when coach George Downing's team ended with a 5-5 record in only the second season of intercollegiate basketball for the Eagles. MSU had to wait until the 1942-43 season to even the series when the Eagles opened the season with a 55-42 win, sparking their 12-7 season under Ellis Johnson. After another wait, this time 37 years, the Eagles took the advantage in the rivalry with an 81-67 victory under Wayne Martin. Tonight's game will mark the first time the same MSU coach has faced LMU twice.

LAST MEETING: Besides Wayne Martin and Randy McCoy (and various observers on press row), the only familiar face that was involved in the 1979 match-up is Eddie Childress, who scored ten points and pulled in five rebounds in 27 minutes of work against the Railsplitters. MSU had four players in double figures, led by Albert Spencer's 21. LMU's Andrew Lewis led all scorers with 23, one of four 'Splitters in double digits.

COACHES: Rick Byrd is ~~1-2~~ in his first year with Lincoln Memorial. Wayne Martin is 77-61 in his sixth year with Morehead State.

NEXT GAME: Morehead State vs. Alabama-Huntsville (Nov. 30, 7:30 p.m.).

OTHER OVC ACTION: Wilmington (Ohio) at Eastern Kentucky.

EAGLE STRING: The Eagles will attempt to lengthen their 11-game winning streak in the Academic-Athletic Center. The last time MSU lost to a guest was Dec. 18, 1982, when Murray State slipped out with a 96-89 tally. Since moving into the AAC from Wetherby Gym, the Eagles are 25-3, a .893 percentage. Over the last 27 seasons, the Eagles have a home record of 248-73, a 78 percent total for wins.

FOOTBALL CLOSES RECORD-SETTING YEAR

MOREHEAD, Ky.---As the air turns icy and the thump of basketball on hardwood floor begins to dominate the sports scene, the Morehead State football Eagles store shoulder pads and helmets and reflect upon a season that was eventful, to say the least.

The most significant event of the 1983 MSU season was the resignation of head coach Steve Loney, announced on Nov. 2. With the team's record at 0-8, Loney submitted his papers in an effort to, as he said at the time, "get rid of the negative cloud that was hanging over the program and allow the University to begin the business of turning the program around."

The cloud dissipated quickly, as a fired-up Eagle team took the field the following Saturday to defeat Liberty Baptist and end an eleven-game tailspin.

Two weeks later, the senior class went out as winners, defeating Youngstown State and ending a 16-game losing string on the road. Ironically, the last team MSU had beaten in the visitor's role was Youngstown State back in 1980, when the seniors were only freshmen.

Although a 2-9 record would indicate a season of lackluster performance, a scratch of the surface of the season would show that the contrary was true.

A total of a dozen records were set by MSU football players during the 1983 season as the seniors left their mark and promise was shown for the future.

The most indelible mark left by any senior was the one from wide receiver Mark Ledford. The 6-1, 175-pound native of Mt. Sterling, Ky., earned All-Ohio Valley Conference honors for the second consecutive year, the first time an Eagle offensive player did so since tight end Keith

FOOTBALL CLOSES RECORD-SETTING YEAR 2-2-2-2-2

Mescher achieved the honor in 1975 and 1976. Ledford rewrote nearly all of MSU's receiving standards. His tallies include: 13 catches in a game, against Western Kentucky on Oct. 29; 74 catches in a season; 152 catches in his career; and 948 receiving yards in a season.

With 30 more yards, Ledford would have tied the record for career yardage, and on two occasions he was within 20 yards of breaking the single-game yardage record.

Two more records went to placekicker Lenn Duff of Mason, Ohio. During his four-year stint at MSU, he hit 39 consecutive point-after-touchdown attempts and 18 field goals, both records. His 51-yard success as a freshman against Middle Tennessee in 1980 still stands as the longest field goal in MSU history.

Promise for the future came from freshman quarterback Adrian Breen of Cincinnati. Given the starting nod when first-liner Mike Hanlin was forced to the sideline with an injury, Breen set three MSU records and an OVC mark in his stellar performance against Austin Peay on Oct. 8, earning OVC Rookie of the Week honors. He attempted 54 passes and completed 31, both MSU marks, and the 79 offensive plays he took part in bested the 14-year OVC standard by ten.

After unsuccessful attempts to establish a ground game, the Eagles to to wing in record numbers. Breen and Hanlin combined to throw the ball a total of 313 times, completing 162 of those passes, both team records.

While the season record may not have reflected the excellence of individual performances, the Eagles have found much to smile about as the book is closed on the 1983 season.

EAGLES TACKLE TOUGH ROAD SWING

MOREHEAD, Ky.---After closing a successful homestand to pop the cork on the new season, the Morehead State basketball Eagles jump straight into the fire without pausing in the frying pan.

Supplying the heat will be two of the nation's top teams, Kansas and Tennessee.

"We'll face two big challenges on the home courts of two teams that traditionally are very powerful teams," said Eagle coach Wayne Martin.

First on the list is Kansas, who is under the leadership of former pro coach Larry Brown. The Jayhawks opened with a loss to last year's national runner-up in Houston's Cougars. To add to the problems the Eagles will face on the court, the game also is the home opener for Kansas after two road games, against Houston and St. Louis on Dec. 1. Entering this season, the Jayhawks have compiled a 266-79 record in Allen Field House.

In the inaugural, Brown was disappointed with the play of his team.

"Obviously, we can't play the style of ball I would like us to," said the former NBA coach. "We lack speed, and I don't want to force us into a game we're not ready to play."

With the Jayhawks' lack of speed, Brown is concerned about MSU's quickness.

"They have good quickness," said Brown. "They're an NCAA team with four starters back, and they have one of the better guards we'll face in Guy Minnifield."

While the Jayhawks are concerned about MSU's speed, the Eagles must contend with KU's size. Kansas has six players at 6-8 or better, topped by 7-1 Greg Dreiling, a transfer from Wichita State. The Eagles counter with only one player above 6-7, center Jeff Tipton (6-11).

The sparkplug of the Jayhawks is 6-5 senior guard Carl Henry. A former standout at Oklahoma City University, where he started at center, Henry is an honorable mention All-American in Street and Smith's yearbook. He lived up to advance billing by scoring 23 points against Houston.

Following the game with Kansas, the Eagles will return home just long enough to pack a fresh suitcase before heading to Knoxville for a date with Don DeVoe's Tennessee Volunteers. Stokely Athletic Center will be sold out for the game, but one seat will be conspicuous in its emptiness.

Senior guard Michael Brooks, the only returning Tennessee player to average better than ten points a game last year (14.1), has been declared academically ineligible for the fall quarter. The burden of offense will fall to senior forward Willie Burton (9.1 points, 8.1 rebounds last year) and senior guard Tyrone Beaman (8.6, 1.5).

In the first two games of the season, the Eagles have looked strong against lesser opponents, tuning up for what could be the most difficult back-to-back games of the season. In the two games, the Eagles built a rebound margin of +27.0, a scoring margin of +29.0, and a bench scoring margin of +29.0.

If Martin has a problem thus far, it's not being able to play all of his talent as much as he would like. The depth the Eagles have will come in handy against Kansas and Tennessee, where Martin will welcome fresh talent on the floor at frequent intervals. Following the Tennessee game, the Eagles return home to entertain Western Michigan on Dec. 9.

In the second half, the Eagles built their lead to 13 before allowing that to slip to nine in the last minute. The final five-point margin came on baskets by Claude Ford and Barry Solomon in the last 20 seconds. Earl Harrison led the Eagles with 21 points and 15 rebounds. Other Eagles in double figures were Guy Minnifield (19), Jeff Tipton (14), and Eddie Childress (12). Leading all scorers was Ford with 30.

NEXT GAME: Morehead State at Kansas (Dec. 3, 8:30 p.m. EST).

OTHER OVC ACTION: Middle Tennessee at Memphis State.

EAGLES IN THE AAC: On Monday night, the Eagles extended their winning streak on the home floor to 11 with their 89-57 victory over Lincoln Memorial. The Eagles last loss in the AAC was Dec. 18, 1982, to Murray State by a score of 96-89. Since moving to the AAC two years ago, the Eagles have built a 25-3 record, an 89 percent success rate.

LADY EAGLES READY FOR LADY BULLDOG TOURNEY

MOREHEAD, Ky.---After splitting a pair of games against teams from Ohio, the Morehead State Lady Eagles will participate in their only tournament during the regular season at the Mississippi State Lady Bulldog Classic this weekend in Starkville.

The Lady Eagles suffered a home loss at the hands of 16th ranked Ohio State, 64-39, but bounced back to top Ohio University on the road, 73-62 at Athens.

In the first round of the Lady Bulldog Classic, MSU is paired against Alcorn State, a team that finished second in the Southwestern Athletic Conference last season and returns four starters and 11 letterwinners from an 18-11 team.

"Alcorn State is a team that is a mystery to us," said Lady Eagle coach Mickey Wells. "We have seen the other two teams on film, but I have not seen anything on Alcorn State."

ASU finished behind Jackson State in the conference race last year and will be joined by host Mississippi State from the Southeastern Conference and Rice University, from the Southwest Conference in the two-day tournament.

"We believe it will be an excellent tournament," Wells said. "The Southeastern Conference is usually strong from top to bottom and we expect all the teams to be a challenge. Tournaments always have good caliber teams involved."

Alcorn State is led by 5-9 senior forward Bella Williams, who led the team in scoring (16.2) and rebounding (8.7) last year.

"We're expecting Alcorn State to be very quick and give us a number of different looks on defense," Wells added.

LADY EAGLES READY FOR LADY BULLDOG TOURNEY 2-2-2-2

Forward Laura Carson and guard Regina Wells compliment Williams' inside game with scoring averages in double digits from last season.

Rice returns three starters from last year's 8-18 squad. Forward Pennie Goff is the top returning player with 20.4 points and 9.7 rebounds per game for the Lady Owls in 1982-83.

Host Mississippi State has two quality players returning in Polly Branch and Sandra Butler. Butler, a 6-0 forward, averaged over 11 points and rebounds last season.

While each team has its standout players, Morehead State's Priscilla Blackford continues on the same pace as last season. After two games, the senior forward from Versailles, Ky., is averaging 22 points and 13 rebounds a game. In the 11-point win over Ohio University Monday night, she tied her career best for points in a game with 33.

"Priscilla has been our most consistent player so far and was all of last season," Wells said. "We know what to expect out of Priscilla each night. Some other players have disappointed us."

The play of centers Loni Guilette and Melissa Ireton has the ninth-year MSU coach concerned.

"If we are going to have a successful year, we need more output from our centers," Wells concluded.

Guilette, a junior, has started both games and is averaging four points and two rebounds. Ireton, a sophomore, has scored three points and has added three rebounds.

MSU will tangle with Alcorn State in the second game on the slate Friday, with consolation and championship games set for Saturday night.

EAGLES WRAP PRE-SEASON HOME SCHEDULE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Following a two-game road swing that may be the most difficult in the history of Morehead State basketball history, the Eagles return home for a brief homestand which will be their last until mid-January.

Coach Wayne Martin and his crew will host the Broncos of Western Michigan at the Academic-Athletic Center at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 9.

The Broncos may provide a welcome relief for MSU after a gruelling two-game road tour that took Martin and Co. into two of the most difficult arenas to play in, Allen Field House at the University of Kansas and the Stokley Athletic Center at the University of Tennessee.

Second-year WMU coach Vernon Payne faces a difficult situation. After a 5-23 season last year, he returns only one senior and two juniors to provide the backbone for a squad that carries seven freshmen.

The junior tandem of Cordell Eley at guard and Kelvin Oliver at forward will be the nucleus of the Bronco plan, as both return with double-figure scoring averages (Eley with 18.1, Oliver with 11.2). However, early problems prompted Payne to juggle the lineup for a Dec. 6 date with DePaul. Eley took to the bench, along with 6-3 guard Booker James, who has turned in the strongest freshman performance for WMU thus far with 11.3 points and 6.3 rebounds per game.

With the substitutions, the Broncos will start three freshmen (Anthony Stuart and Randy Bolden at guards and Steve Amundson at forward) plus Oliver and the lone Bronco senior, center Lary Blahnick, a 6-8 player averaging 8.0 points and 8.7 rebounds per game.

The Eagles opened the season playing well against non-Division I competition, then took their act on the road, only to run into a Kansas team that was just coming off a tough tour that included a season-opener against national runner-up Houston and Akeem Olajuwon.

Sparked by the play of senior center Jeff Tipton and perfect free throw shooting, the Eagles made a game of it during the first half of the game, going into the locker room down by only four points. In the second half, however, Kansas came out in a sticky zone defense that neutralized Tipton inside. The Jayhawks complimented the defense with 68-percent field goal shooting to extend leads as much as 24 points before MSU closed to within 18 to finish the game at 75-57.

Headed into the Tennessee matchup, the Eagles were enjoying outstanding bench production, based largely on the efforts of seniors Earl Harrison and Arthur Sullivan. Harrison, a starter on last year's NCAA team who has been slowed by a foot injury in the early going, is third among Eagle scorers with an 11.3 average, while Sullivan has contributed 7.0 on strong outside shooting.

The Eagles are led in scoring by Tipton and guard Guy Minnifield, both of whom are averaging 12.8 points. Tipton heads the rebounding department as well, averaging 8.5 boards a game.

After the Western Michigan game, the Eagles will take several days off prior to a bout with arch-rival Marshall, a game that will be televised by WOWK-TV out of Huntington, W. Va. After that game, the Eagles wrap their pre-holiday season by travelling to Kalamazoo, Mich., for a return date with the Broncos.

EAGLES CLOSE 1983; PREP FOR LOUISVILLE

MOREHEAD, Ky.---The Morehead State basketball Eagles close out 1983 in style with the first live television broadcast from the Academic-Athletic Center, then travel to a return bout with Western Michigan before a two-week layoff prior to the anticipated clash with Louisville.

Before the contest with the Cardinals, the Eagles must take care of business, though, and that business includes tackling an undefeated Marshall team that trounced West Virginia earlier in the season.

The Thundering Herd invades the AAC for a Dec. 15 date, with the game carried live on WOWK-TV, Huntington, WV. Coach Rick Huckabay's first-year team is led by senior swingman LaVerne Evans, who was hitting at a 22.3 points-per-game clip prior to a Dec. 13 game against Ohio Wesleyan. Backing Evans is Sam Ervin, who is averaging 13.3 points. Evans leads the Herd in rebounding with an 8.0 average, with Ervin second at 4.8.

The Eagles, on the other hand, have four players averaging in double figures, led by center Jeff Tipton's 13.7. Other MSU players in double digits are guard Guy Minnifield (11.7) and forwards Jeff Tucker (11.2) and Earl Harrison (10.5).

The Eagles' balanced attack has enabled them to fashion a 4-2 record thus far, with the two losses coming at the hands of Kansas and Tennessee, both road engagements.

In the Tennessee game, the Eagles took advantage of a disorganized Volunteers ballclub to forge an eight-point lead with 17 minutes left in the game. However, Vols coach Don DeVoe got his charges together and took advantage of a six-minute scoring drought by the Eagles to bounce back and annex a 75-63 victory.

"There's no question about it...Morehead State is the best basketball team we've played this year," said DeVoe after the game.

The Eagles bounced back to keep a 13-game home winning string alive with a 95-70 win over a young Western Michigan team. MSU was paced by an 18-point performance off the bench by Tucker, who fell from the starting ranks prior to the Tennessee game. Since then, Tucker has averaged 18 points a game.

The Eagles have been able to utilize their depth so far this season, with the bench averaging 33.6 points per game, while opponents have been able to squeeze only 14.8 out of their non-starters.

MSU travels to Kalamazoo, Mich., for a return match with Western Michigan on Dec. 19. The Broncos will have a ten-day rest under their belts, as they have no games scheduled between the MSU engagements. Coach Vernon Payne will hope for greater point production from junior guard Cordell Eley, who entered the first MSU game with a 14.3 average but only tallied six points against a tenacious Eagle defense.

Eagle leader Wayne Martin will try to find a way to close down freshman forward Booker James, who led all scorers with 24 points on Dec. 9. James, one of seven freshmen on the WMU squad, was averaging only 13.0 points before his field day against the Eagles.

~~FREE~~ FREE THROWS: The Eagles lead in the series with both Marshall (40-38) and Western Michigan (2-1)...Marshall won the last game between the two, 98-83 in the 1980-81 season...senior guard Jeff Fultz continues his sparkling play at point guard for the Eagles, with 26 assists and nine steals against only three turnovers in 160 minutes...The Eagles have outrebounded all opponents except Kansas, holding a +13.7 rebounding margin.

LADY EAGLES HOST MARSHALL

MOREHEAD, Ky.--- The Morehead State Lady Eagle basketball squad will close out its pre-Christmas schedule Thursday Dec. 15 when the Marshall Lady Herd rumbles into the Academic-Athletic Center for a 5 p.m. contest.

The Lady Eagles hosted Louisville on Tuesday, Dec. 13, taking a 3-2 record into the game against the Lady Cardinals.

The Marshall game will kickoff doubleheader action at the AAC. The Eagles will face the Herd at 7:30 p.m.

Prior to the Louisville outing, MSU had won three of four games since a season opening loss to Top 20 rated Ohio State. According to head coach Mickey Wells, the Lady Eagles have progressed since the OSU outing.

"The Ohio State game was a big game for our team," Wells commented. "We wanted to prove ourselves against a top level team and things fell apart. Since then we have tried to correct our mistakes and prepare ourselves for the Ohio Valley Conference season."

Taking on Marshall in the final tuneup for the OVC season will be a stern test for the Lady Eagles.

"Marshall is a fine team that has improved immensely over the last two years," Wells said. "They have a young team, but they are experienced."

"They had a lot of kids start last year as freshman and that playing time has helped them this season."

Marshall, after a 79-51 win over North Carolina A&T last Saturday, is 6-1 on the season.

"Marshall is a team that is always pumped up when they play us," Wells said. "It's a good rivalry for both teams. They have a well balanced team and will show you a lot of pressure defense from start to finish."

The Lady Herd under coach Judy Southard is led in scoring by sophomore Karen Pelphrey. The forward from Paintsville, Ky., is averaging over 22 points a game and pumped in a game-high 28 points in Marshall's latest outing.

"Marshall is a good outside shooting team and Pelphrey is one of the best," Wells said.

The game will be a homecoming of sorts for Lady Herd sophomore guard Karla May. May, a product of Rowan County High School in Morehead, leads the Lady Herd in assists with 7.8 a game.

The Lady Eagles are led in scoring by junior guard Connie Appelman, who is averaging 12.4 points a game and is connecting on nearly 60 percent of her shots from the field.

Morehead State will next see action against conference pre-season favorite Middle Tennessee on Jan. 12.

*****

Lady Eagle standout Priscilla Blackford, the 1983 OVC Women's Player of the Year and Female Athlete of the Year, will not be competing for the rest of the season due to personal reasons.

The 5-11 senior forward from Versailles, Ky., will remain in school this semester.

In five games this year, she was averaging 22.8 points and 13.4 rebounds.

She is the fourth all-time leading scorer in Lady Eagle basketball history with 1,481 points and was a Street & Smith pre-season honorable mention All-American.

LADY EAGLES ON THREE-GAME WINNING STREAK

MOREHEAD, Ky.--- The Lady Eagles of Morehead State closed out their pre-Christmas basketball schedule with a pair of wins over Louisville and Marshall.

The Lady Eagles, now 5-2 on the season and on a three-game winning streak, downed the Lady Cardinals 57-51 and whipped Marshall 70-57.

"It's really pleasing to see the team react that way with a couple of victory's after a hectic week," said MSU head coach Mickey Wells.

A few days prior to the Louisville matchup, Wells was informed by 1983 Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year Priscilla Blackford, that she was leaving the team for personal reasons.

"The team responded well in an adverse situation," Wells continued. "We practiced well all week and the effort showed in game situations."

Freshman forward Bernice Linner led MSU in scoring against Marshall with 14 points and added 10 rebounds. Junior guard Connie Appelbman fired in 12 points, while sophomore center Melissa Ireton came off the bench to score 11.

"We are starting to get more and more good play from the kids off the bench," Wells said. "Melissa came on and scored a bunch of points and Penny (Teegarden) did a great job on the boards."

Teegarden, a junior from Dover, Ky., scored seven points and pulled down 10 rebounds in the Marshall game.

The Lady Eagles will now take a couple of weeks off for the Christmas holidays, and will return on Jan. 2 for two-a-day practices, in preparation for the OVC opener with Middle Tennessee on Jan. 12.

"We have started to pick up some momentum with the three straight wins and hope it continues through conference play," Wells said.

EAGLES BREAK WITH 6-2 START

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Enjoying its best start in 15 years, the Morehead State Eagle basketball team will take a respite for the holidays before tackling nationally-ranked Louisville on Jan. 3 at Freedom Hall.

Out of the gate with a 6-2 record, the Eagles are off to their best beginning since the 1968-69 season, when coach Bob Wright's squad jumped off with the same figures and ended the season with an 18-10 mark.

Powering the Eagle drive is senior guard Guy Minnifield. A pre-season All-Ohio Valley Conference selection, Minnifield is living up to notices as he pursues the elusive 1,000 career points plateau. Following a strong 24-point performance at Western Michigan, Minnifield needs only 25 points to attain the 1,000-point goal while playing at Morehead State.

A transfer from Iowa State, Minnifield has tallied a total of 1,132 points during his collegiate career, having scored 157 while at ISU.

Two other Eagles are on track for the 1,000-point club as well. Eddie Childress stands at 943 after action at Western Michigan, while center Jeff Tipton is at 757. Tipton will have to maintain his 12.1 average to edge over the mark.

A strong early season has given the Eagles stiff tests and prepared them for the OVC season, but the most difficult test lies in Louisville, who currently is ranked in the Top Ten by both wire service polls. The Cardinals entered the Chaminade Classic led by guard Lancaster Gordon, who is averaging 17.2 points per game. His courtmate, All-American Milt Wagner, is close behind at a 16.3 clip.

The Cards got off to a slow start, taking a loss from top-ranked Kentucky and then slipping against Purdue before downing a ranked Iowa squad and building a three-game win string before departing for sunny climes. UL coach Denny Crum will reach the 300-win level with his next victory.

The Eagles have tangled with the Cards in the past and stand at 11-21 in the series. The last time the two met, MSU came away with a 103-70 shiner, but Tipton recorded one of his best games, including an 11-rebound effort.

Coach Wayne Martin and crew will get no rest after the Louisville encounter, as they will board their bus and head to Nashville for a game the next night with Tennessee State. Coach Ed Martin entered the season with a 486-233 lifetime record, and the Tigers will be formidable foes for a road-weary Eagle squad. Senior guard Ronnie Cage was the top returnee for TSU this season, averaging 13.3 points while helping TSU to an 11-16 record last year.

EAGLE EXPONENTS: For the second time in two weeks, an MSU player has been honored by the OVC office. Last week, freshman forward Pate Clements was recognized as "Rookie of the Week" for his 15 points in 12 minutes against Western Michigan in the first go-around. This week, senior guard Guy Minnifield was lauded as "Player of the Week" for his efforts against Marshall, when he scored 18 points, nabbed two steals, and handed out six assists....MSU will return home to the Academic-Athletic Center to open its 1984 OVC season against Middle Tennessee on Jan. 12. The Eagles have a 14-game home winning streak intact....The MSU bench has seen a good deal of playing time and has outscored the opponents' reserves by a 2-1 margin (MSU has 258 bench points, foes have 129)....There will be a new look to the MSU stat sheets once the OVC season begins. It will include stats for the season and for the OVC season as well. This change will be made to better serve the needs of the media covering Eagle basketball.

FROM THE MOREHEAD STATE SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE: A very merry holiday season to everyone! Thanks for your assistance and coverage, and we'll see you in the new year!

TWO TABBED AS FOOTBALL ASSISTANTS

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Two coaches currently serving in Indiana have been named as assistant football coaches at Morehead State University, forming the foundation of the staff being compiled by head coach Bill Baldrige.

Fred Mariani joins the Eagle staff as offensive line coach. A graduate of St. Joseph's College in Collegeville, Ind., he served as an assistant for the Pumas for the past ten years, acting as offensive coordinator since 1975. In that time, the Pumas won two Indiana Collegiate Conference titles and the Heartland Collegiate Conference title in 1979.

Mariani's offensive emphasis is toward the passing game, which is tailored to the program Baldrige wishes to establish at MSU. St. Joseph's had one of the nation's top quarterbacks in Division II passing in 1980 and has ended the last two years among the top six in Division II passing offense.

Baldrige's offensive coordinator is Paul H. "Rocky" Alt, a 34-year-old native of Crestline, Ohio, who served as head coach at Center Grove High School in Greenwood, Ind., since 1980, building a 17-13 record. His previous coaching experience includes stints as an assistant at Marshall University and Southern Illinois University, as well as at his alma mater, Wittenberg University.

TWO TABBED AS FOOTBALL ASSISTANTS

MOREHEAD, Ky.---Two coaches currently serving in Indiana have been named as assistant football coaches at Morehead State University, forming the foundation of the staff being compiled by head coach Bill Baldrige.

Fred Mariani joins the Eagle staff as offensive line coach. A graduate of St. Joseph's College in Collegeville, Ind., he served as an assistant for the Pumas for the past ten years, acting as offensive coordinator since 1975. In that time, the Pumas won two Indiana Collegiate Conference titles and the Heartland Collegiate Conference title in 1979.

Baldrige's offensive coordinator is Paul H. "Rocky" Alt, a 34-year-old native of Crestline, Ohio, who served as head coach at Center Grove High School in Greenwood, Ind., since 1980, building a 17-13 record. ## EAGLE FOOTBALL LANDS THREE MOREHEAD, Ky.---Three experienced players will play football for Bill Baldrige at Morehead State next fall. Two junior college players and a transfer from the University of Kansas have committed to the Eagles.

Matt Tilton, a kicker from the College of DuPage in Glen Ellyn, Ill., will join the Eagles during spring practices. He scored 55 points for DuPage last year and ranked eighth in the nation in scoring. He was successful on 28 of 30 extra point attempts and hit nine of 19 field goal tries, with a long of 41 yards. His 22-yard field goal against Harper Junior College gave DuPage a 9-7 last-second win and a berth in the Like Cola Bowl, DuPage's first bowl appearance.

The Eagle defense will get help from Doug McMahon, a 6-0, 195-pound strong safety from Triton Junior College in River Grove, Ill. Baldrige plans to move McMahon from safety to outside linebacker in his wide tackle six defense. At Triton, McMahon was second in tackles with 33 solos and 46 assists, with four interceptions to his credit. Both he and Tilton were All-North Central Community College Conference selections and All-Region 4 choices.

Also joining the Eagles is wide receiver Todd Short, a transfer from Kansas who will be eligible to play immediately since the Jayhawks are on NCAA probation. The Los Angeles native will have two years of playing time at MSU after redshirting at KU last year.

The three join junior college All-American Jeff McGuire as the first four recruits signed by Baldrige and his staff.
